EVEN THE SUN SMILED

Making Labor Day Perfect in Point of Weather

AS IT WAS IN OTHER DAYS

Fifteen Hundred Marched in the Parade, and Thousands Saw the Sports at Columbian Park—The Wheelmen All Entered and Rode Hard for Victory—The Greatest Celebration of Its Character Ever Conducted in the City.

The weather of yesterday was perfect, and the 6,000 people who went to Columbian park enjoyed Labor Day and its pleasures as they have never enjoyed a similar occasion.

The sun looked its prettiest as it peeped from a cloudless sky in the morning, and soon had the city awake and stirring. As the streets began to fill with people, and the morning trains poured their floods of humanity to join the crowds already here, the people began to realize that Liverpool was to have an unusually pleasant day if it desired to celebrate the occasion. Few workmen reported at the potteries, and the majority of factories made no pretense at operation. A small number whose work could not be suspended found themselves compelled to pass through the daily routine, but the vast majority, arrayed in their best clothes and looking bright and happy, were in the streets or gathering at the various meeting places of their unions. In the business portion of the city all was bustle and stir, while here and there the clattering of horses hoofs told of some aid hastening to get his portion of the parade in line. Wellsville sent a large delegation, while Steubenville and other towns along the river were well represented. The Beaver valley was also here, and the surrounding country sent in an unusually large number of farmers. The crowds began to gather early, and the stirring notes of the bands sounded loud in the air as they marched through the streets. Flags and bunting flew from many buildings in the city, and not a few private residences showed the national colors. There was some delay in forming the procession, but that was accounted for by the early hour at which it was decided to march. Some unions could not gather enough men to make a good showing at the appointed time and the delay was the result, but it was not for long. The crowd appreciated the fact that the start was to be made at Market and Fourth streets, and there it gathered to see Chief Marshal Blake and his aides get the line in order. When the organizations that were to take part began to arrive it did not take a long time to form the procession, and a few minutes after nine all was ready for the start. With bands playing, horses prancing, and colors flying, the column presented a splendid appearance as it swung into Fourth street, and marched proudly toward Broadway in this order:

Chief Marshal Blake
Seven aides
Chief Gill and police
President Hughes and officers
Haynes' band
Glass workers
Kilmen
Cyclers
Sagarmakers
Printers
Carpenters
Warren's band
Clay workers
Decorators
Manley's band
Mayor Gilbert and council
A. J. Boyce delegation
Chief Adam
Fire department.

Crowds lined the pavements as the column moved along, and there were cheers at several points where the friends of some union had massed to make it welcome. The glass workers looked especially well, each man carrying a glass cane, and strong members of the union bearing various artistic designs in glass. The pressers turned out an unusually large number, and the sagarmakers attracted attention because they were headed by a wagon on which two workmen were busily engaged plying their trade. As usual the fire department created favorable comment, every piece of metal having been rubbed until it resembled burnished gold. The horses pranced as proudly as though they realized the attention showered upon them, and the city officials looked their best as they rode along. Taken all in all it was one of the best parades ever seen in the city, and was thoroughly appreciated by the large number of people who witnessed it.

Immediately after the route had been passed over the street cars began to fill, and from that hour until late in the afternoon the crowds were transported to Columbian park. Thousands of people took the cars, and hundreds were carried in hacks and carriages. Superintendent Andrews and his men made a noble effort to carry the passengers, and all the cars were in use during the day. When a car was so full that it would hold no more it made a through run, and passengers along the line were picked up by other cars. Business houses did well during the morning, but at noon doors were closed by general consent, and everyone went to the park, where they spent the afternoon in enjoyment.

The chief attraction there was the sports, and thousands thronged the wooded hillside of the park, and viewed the events as they took place on the track. The bicycle races were popular, and favorite wheelmen were cheered to the echo when they appeared on the track. The first race in the morning was the mile for boys under 14 years of age. It was won by Howard Blake, of the News Review, with several lengths to spare, his opponents, Edward Lomis and George Fowler, crossing in the order named. The time was 3.08.

Miss Katimer won the blindfold race and Miss Parker made a good second. The half mile foot race was the property of A. T. Steel. John Reark was second, Edward Bussell third and Adam Gobbert fourth. The time was 2.29. Regie carried off the prize in the horse race, and Sir Oracle was second, the distance being covered in 2.50. One of the best races of the day was the five mile handicap, bicycle, with Irons and Trappe on the scratch. Irons did some hard work, and passed all the contestants, finishing first, while Trappe gave him a very good second. Herbert, an 800 yard man was third; Bott, with 600 yards, came fourth; Laughlin, another 800 yard rider, got fifth, and Jewell, who was on the same mark with Bott, was sixth. The time was 12:53, very good, when it was considered that a strong wind was blowing. Alex Steel won the 150 yard foot race in 151 seconds, and George Gaston, John Reark and A. T. Steel finished in the order named. Trappe, Hale, Irons, Bott, Laughlin finished in that order in the two mile bicycle, and gave the spectators some very good sport, by making the distance in six minutes. There were no entries for the ladies' bicycle race, and Trappe gave an exhibition quarter. He made it in 30 flat, being paced by Irons and Hale on a tandem. Irons rode a half against time with Hale and Trappe on a tandem, doing the distance in 1.04. This finished the bicycle races, and the tug of war was given the potters because the glass workers failed to make their appearance.

The crowd at the park was a jolly, good humored gathering, and there was little if any disorder. One stranger did his best to enter without paying, and was promptly ejected, while a drunk or two was told by the police that they had better go home. Frank Allison, the acting chief, had his hands full looking after the crowd, but he and his men fulfilled their task very well, and have the thanks of all who were there. A fakir wanted to set up a wheel of fortune but was informed that he could not rob the people there, and in spite of the fact that he offered 60 per cent of his winnings to Trades council was ordered to move on. The dancing platform was well patronized, and the young people enjoyed the fun until a late hour. There was a general good feeling in the crowd which could not be mistaken, and the presence of a number of manufacturing potters did much toward showing that any ill-feeling which might have been the outgrowth of the strike is dying away. There were in the neighborhood of 6,000 people on the ground, and the paid admissions will cover all expenses. The newspaper representatives who passed judgment on the parade gave the first prize to the glass workers and the second to the sagarmakers. There were about 1,500 men in line, and of all the unions represented these made the best showing. They had prepared for the event, and were given the benefit of their hard work. The barbers also looked very well, and the carpenters received honorable mention for the part they played.

The prize waltz was one of the best contests of the day, and was won by Mr. William Morrow and Miss Katie Berg, while Mr. Henry Richie and Miss Lena Frygot the second prize. There were a number of contestants, and the rivalry was keen.

Taken all in all the observance of Labor Day was of that character calculated to make those who had it in charge feel proud, and they desire to thank the people who aided to make it a success. The flags which appeared at the residence of Colonel

THE BUGGY WAS LEFT

But the Thief Got Away With the Horse.

SUNDAY WAS A CLOSE DAY

If the Law Was Broken No One Reported It To the Police—Few Arrests Yesterday. General Amnesty for the Few Who Broke the Law—Police Court.

Labor Day was observed by the police with the exercise of unusual vigilance, but be it said to the credit of the city there was little for them to do.

The most important case was that of a man named Swearingen who lives between Georgetown and Hookstown, and came to see the sport yesterday. He drove as far as Chester where he hitched his horse in the grove, and crossed the river. When he returned after a day of pleasure it was to find the horse gone, but the harness placed carefully in the buggy. Numerous inquiries resulted in nothing more than the belief that some one had stolen the animal, and the theft was reported to the authorities.

The police were lenient yesterday and refrained from arresting any one except those not capable of taking care of themselves. One drunk was captured and locked up, but after he had slept off the effects of his debauch he was allowed to go without even the formality of his name being recorded. There were very few drunken people in town, and good order was observed everywhere. Not a fight was reported, and the patrol made no runs.

The business left over from Saturday for the attention of Mayor Gilbert was disposed of because there was little of it for his consideration. Mary Humphries paid $7 for her escapade, and Charles Magill, who was arrested at Fourth and Jefferson streets by Officer Jennings for being disorderly and drunk paid $7.75. Officer Earle got a man named Jackson in the First ward on Saturday night, and he got $6.75 which was paid. He was disorderly.

Sunday was observed in the city as few Sundays have ever been passed through, and very few people failed to obey the order of Mayor Gilbert. No complaints were made at city hall, and the amount of objection from people who neglected to purchase supplies on Saturday night prompts the belief that the day was observed. The papers were delivered and the street cars ran as usual, and it is understood that no effort will be made to stop these conveniences. Many people made their purchases in Wellsville, and the cars did a good business.

FAIRBANKS WANTS MONEY.

He Sued the Golding Company For $5,000 Damages.

Lisbon, Sept. 2.—E. L. Fairbanks today brought suit against the Golding company for $5,000 because he was imprisoned for contempt in the Golding Connors case. He claims no subpoenae was ever served on him personally and the imprisonment for contempt was with malicious intent to injure him. He was in jail 36 hours in Liverpool, and 14 days in Lisbon. The cell at Lisbon he describes as filthy and unhealthy, causing him sickness and permanent injury to his health. Hon. R. W. Taylor and P. M. Smith are the attorneys.

George Heckathorn plead guilty before Judge Young today and got 60 days in the workhouse and $50 and costs.

Professor McDonald was today appointed county examiner for a term of three years.

HIT THE CAR.

Almost a Tragedy at the Second Street Switch.

There came near being a tragedy at the Second street crossing on Sunday afternoon, and it was not the fault of the railroad people that a crowded street car passed the track without some one being killed. A flying switch was being made, and a freight car dashed down the track as a motor car passed over. The crowd held their breath in horror, but the motorman put on the power, and the car escaped with no other damage than a broken dash. The gates are not in operation on Sunday.

A DARING THEFT.

How Two Thieves Got A Pocketbook on Second Street.

Mrs. Joseph Beardmore was walking along Second street on Saturday evening with several bundles in her arms and a pocketbook in her hand. She noticed two men walking toward her, but thought nothing of it until one walked on each side of her, and as they passed one caught her pocketbook. With a quick movement he darted down the street and his accomplice followed. Mrs. Beardmore could do nothing beyond reporting the case to the police, and as there is but little to work on the fellows will probably escape. The purse contained $13 in money and a check for $25. No arrests have yet been made, and it is possible that the pair will escape.

FOR FORTY YEARS.

Mrs. Jeannett Boyd Was a Resident Of This Section.

Mrs. Jeannett Boyd, for 40 years a resident of this immediate vicinity, died at her home on the farm above Walker on Sunday night after an illness of three weeks. Mrs. Boyd was born in Madison township 75 years ago, and has always lived in this county, the greater part of her life having been spent on the home farm where she died. Six children survive her, and her husband died 19 years ago. Services will be held at her late residence on Wednesday at 11 o'clock by Doctor Taggart, and interment will be at the Presbyterian church in Yellow Creek township. Inflammation was the direct cause of death.

THE HORSES RAN.

Then A. Czech and His Family Were Thrown Out.

A. Czech, of Jackson street, went buggyriding with his family on Sunday morning, and when near the top of Thompson hill the single tree broke and the horses ran away. Mrs. Czech and her sons climbed out of the surrey, and in a few minutes were safe, but the husband and a son were left in the carriage. The horses ran until they reached a bridge when they went over and the occupants were thrown out. Recovering themselves the horses ran to Smith's Ferry where they were caught. One of the boys was injured internally, but the others were only bruised.

LOCKED UP.

A New Brighton Youth Wanted By a Liverpool Girl.

A New Brighton paper tells the following story:

"A young man by the name of Jolly is lying in the New Brighton lockup awaiting a hearing on a serious charge made against him by a young woman of East Liverpool. The young people both resided at that place. The information was made at East Liverpool, but Jolly took quick leave of the state. She followed him to this place and again made the charge before Justice Duff. He was arrested and the question has now arisen whether or not the law will be operative against him in this state."

A LONG RIDE.

Hanke, the Skater, In An Entirely New Role.

Hanke, the skater who is well known here, was in town last night but in a new role. He is backed by a Wheeling man to ride a bicycle from Wheeling to New York and return with a side trip to Chicago, and make $150 by giving exhibitions before Oct. 1. Yesterday he had an accident at Empire being forced over the hill by a farmer. He was compelled to carry his wheel to this city where it was repaired. Mayor Gilbert signed his book today.

A PRECEDENT.

Mayor Gilbert Allows No Jury in the Rinehart Trial.

Mayor Gilbert heard the case of McCain against Rinehart this afternoon, but would not allow a jury. In speaking of the matter Attorney Brookes said that the mayor thus established a precedent that could be called into play in the future. It has been the custom to allow almost every one who demanded it a jury trial.

The Sweeper a Success.

The sweeper was on the streets this morning, and made a good showing. Commissioner Welsh also had the sprinkler out, and the streets were given a good cleaning. The sweeper seems to do the work, although it occasionally scares a horse, and is not the prettiest thing in the world. Broadway was as clean as a new pin after it was swept, and Washington street presented a creditable appearance.

A Successful Meeting.

Hollow Rock camping was the mecca for hundreds of Liverpool people on Sunday, and they were well repaid for making the trip. Holliness Taylor delivered a characteristic address, and said some things which amused the large audience within hearing distance. The meeting has been very successful, and thousands of people have visited the camp during the progress of the meeting.

YOU BUY BEFORE SIX

Or You Will Wait Until the Next Day.

BUSINESS MEN HAVE STRUCK

They Will Have a Regular Working Day in the Future, With No Exceptions Beyond the Month Of December, Saturday and Monday, and Evenings Preceding Holidays.

The business men held a meeting in the Young Men's Christian association rooms last night, and before going home decided that they too would have a regular working day, and stores would close at 6 o'clock.

The plan as adopted is for stores to close each evening during the week except Saturday and Monday, at 6 o'clock and remain closed until the next morning at a reasonable hour. On the evening preceding a holiday all places of business will be open as long as the owner desires, and during the whole of December there is no limit. The clothing men objected to the arrangement because a great deal of their trade is done at night, but it is hoped an agreement will be reached whereby they will be brought into the fold. Of course the grocery and drug stores are not included in the arrangement, but the business houses closed during the summer are as a rule connected with the plan.

PROUDEST MAN IN TOWN.

Professor Sanor Has the Schools Well Started.

Professor Sanor is the proudest man in town today as well as the busiest. The new school building was thrown open this morning, and hundreds of youngsters hurried to occupy their seats. The building is all that could be asked, and juvenile exclamations of wonder were heard on every hand all day. All the teachers are in their places, the scholars have had a long vacation, and everything is in readiness for a season of good work.

PUT OFF THE CAR.

Turnkey Chris Bick May Sue the Street Railway.

Turnkey Chris Bick got on a street car in Wellsville yesterday morning, and tendering the conductor $10 was informed that it was against the rules to change a bill of greater denomination than $2, and as he had no smaller amount he was put off at Tophet. He was angry at what he believed was an unjust ruling, and will take legal advice to see what can be done toward having redress.

APPOINTED PATROLMAN.

A New Officer Will Drive the Prancing Grays at Night.

Mayor Gilbert announces today that he has formally appointed William Randolph to the position of night patrolman, and he has already entered upon his duties. He will have charge of the patrol at night, and will answer all calls as well as lend his aid to the fire department.

Strangers In Town.

A party made up of 25 potters from the sanitary work at Tiltonville were in town yesterday attending the celebration under the guiding care of James Cannon.

East Palestine was represented by a number of miners who came over in the morning and returned at night.

Street Railway Magnates.

Secretary Davies and W. G. McDole, chief bookkeeper of the street railway company were in town today looking over the property of the concern. They denied that any particular significance was attached to their visit, and they went home on the morning train.

Webb Won.

The foot race between Joseph Webb and Fred Hulm at East End park on Saturday evening was won by Webb who had less than a foot the best of the contest. A large crowd was present, and some money changed owners. Another race will likely be run.

Gone to China.

Doctor J. M. Swan, wife and sons, this morning started on their long journey to China. They will take the Empress of India at San Francisco, and expect at this season to have a pleasant trip.

Sued For a Bill.

The U. Baird Manufacturing company, of Pittsburg, brought suit today against Frank Risinger in the court of Squire Rose. They want $11.80 for material furnished.

An Inspector.

Albert Blauvelt, an insurance inspector of Chicago, was in town today on business.

IMPORTS OF CROCKERY.

How They Are Faring Under the Wilson Law.

The following imports and exports of crockery and glassware are for the month of June, the latest period for which the official figures have been compiled by the Treasury Department. The dutiable imports of china, porcelain, parian, and bisque, earthen, stone, and crockery ware, not decorated or ornamented, amounted in June to $178,294, an increase over last June when the imports were only $110,911. The year's total also shows an increase, being $2,053,759 this year, as compared with $1,258,881 last year. The dutiable imports of china, porcelain, parian, and bisque, earthen, stone, and crockery ware, decorated or ornamented, amounted in June to $600,198. Last June the imports were much less, being $305,173. The total for the year amounted to $6,585,690, against imports to the value of $5,222,075 last year. All other earthen, stone and china ware imported in June amounted to $18,949, against $14,159 worth imported last June. The imports for '95 show a falling off for the year, being $316,615, as compared with $393,481 for last year. The domestic exports of earthen and stone ware for the month of June amounted to $9,325. Last June they were nearly the same, being $9,143. The total for the year shows a slight increase, the exports footing up $118,205 this year, as compared with $113,080 worth exported last year. The domestic exports of china ware during June were valued at $3,474, those exported last June were valued at $943, showing quite an increase for the month of June, '95. The total for the year also shows an increase, being $22,816 this year, as compared with $14,357 worth exported last year. The dutiable re-exported of china, porcelain, parian and bisque, earthen, stone and crockery ware, not decorated or ornamented, amounted to $1,696 in June. Last June the re-exports were $196. The twelve months total shows an increase, being $4,051 for this year, against re-exports valued at $3,406 last year. The dutiable re-exports of china, porcelain, parian, and bisque, earthen, stone and crockery ware, decorated or ornamented, amounted to $478 in June. Last June the re-exports were $253. The year's total shows an increase as the re-exports amounted to $16,160 this year as compared with $12,490 last year. All other earthen, stone, and china ware, re-exported in June amounted $25, against $572 worth re-exported in June. The total for the year footed up $4,738, quite an increase over last year, when the re-exports were $2,985—Ex.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at River Junction she was brought down with pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at T. L. Pott's drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.

School Supplies.

The largest assortment and the lowest prices. Tablets at 1, 2, 3, 5 and 10 cents. Single slates at 2, 3, 4 and 5 cents. Double slates at 10, 13, 15, and 20 cents. Slate pencils, inks, and lead pencils at away down prices, at FERGUSON & HILL, 5 and 10 cent store.

THE ELECTRIC SEPARATOR.

Two Will Be Put in at the Sebring Pottery at Once.

The electric separator of Whitacre & Wolfe will soon be given a practical trial in a pottery in this city the first one to be sold having been purchased by the Sebring company and will be put in at their plant on Second street at once. In speaking of the invention to a News Review man Mr. Frank Sebring said:

"The device certainly takes the iron particles out of the clay, and that is what we want before we can make ware that will stand out as the best of stock. All we have now are the ordinary magnets, and while they catch much of the iron that is in the slip there is no denying that some of it is still in the clay when it is made into ware. I saw the machine work in Mr. Whitacre's laboratory, and it struck me at that time that it did the work they claimed. The clay after passing through the pipe was remarkably free from iron, so much of an improvement over the slip found in every pottery where magnets are used that the difference was plainly seen. Ware made from clay so free from iron as that passed through the machine can not but be better than the ordinary white granite, and we looked at it in a business light. If the iron could be taken out in that laboratory it could certainly be extracted at our pottery, and we are going to have machines added to our equipment in the slip-house at once. The ware, I think, will be more solid, and better able to stand rough usage. It will certainly be of better color, and I believe we can bring it through the kiln at a smaller loss. This iron has always caused trouble to the manufacturing potters because so little is known of it. Occasionally you find a car of clay with very little iron in it, and then you will get half a dozen cars that are full of the stuff. Each particle allows a line of fracture in the dish, and makes it more liable to break than if there were none.

"We expect to put in two of the machines at once. One will be for the glaze. With these we think that the proportion of iron in the slip will be reduced to a minimum, and it will be a great improvement over the old system."

Messrs. Whitacre and Wolfe are getting their business in excellent condition, and are more than pleased with the tests of the machine.

Each part was in excellent hands, and the company made a favorable impression. The play is remarkably well-staged, and the company surprised all who heard them, by their strength and ability to perform the difficult roles. Frederic Seward, in the character of Curly Miller and James Willoughby, developed considerable strength.—Reading Herald.

AN ALARMING STATEMENT CONCERNING WOMEN.

HOW BAD HABITS ARE FORMED.

The New York Tribune says: "The habit of taking 'headache powders' is increasing to an alarming extent among a great number of women throughout the country. These powders, as their name indicates, are claimed by the manufacturers to be a positive and speedy cure for any form of headache. In many cases their chief ingredient is morphia, opium, cocaine or some other equally insidious drug having a tendency to deaden pain. The habit of taking them is easily formed, but almost impossible to shake off. Women usually begin taking them to relieve a raging headache and soon resort to the powder to alleviate any little pain or ache they may be subjected to, and finally get into the habit of taking them regularly, imagining that they are in pain if they happen to miss their regular dose."

In nine cases out of ten, the trouble is in the stomach and liver. Take a simple laxative and liver tonic and remove the offending matter which deranges the stomach and causes the headache. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are composed entirely of the purest, concentrated, vegetable extracts. One Pellet is a dose; sugar-coated, easily swallowed; once used, always in favor. They positively cure sick headache and remove the disposition to it.

Mr. E. VARGASON, of Otter Lake, LaPorte Co., Mich., writes: "I not infrequently have an attack of the headache. It usually comes on in the forenoon. At my dinner I eat my regular meal, and take one or two of Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets immediately after, and in the course of an hour my headache is cured with no bad effects. I feel better every way for having taken them, and not worse, as is usual after taking other kinds of pills. 'Pleasant Pellets' are worth more than their weight in gold, if for nothing else than to cure headache."

Forge and Furnace of the Future.

The opinion is expressed by a writer in The Mechanical News that the forge and furnace of the future will consist of a lead lined glass or porcelain vase, or cupola, filled with cold acidified water, to which is connected a strong positive conductor, the forge and outfit being rendered complete by a pair of tongs with insulated handles attached to a flexible negative conductor. According to this plan, the smith seizes the piece of iron which is to be manipulated with the insulated tongs and plunges it into the sour water, which begins to boil and bubble the instant it comes in contact with the iron, the latter, in a remarkably short space of time, turning to a red and then to a white heat, ready for the work of the smith. So rapidly indeed is the heating done by this means that the water and the portion of the iron not immersed in the water are but slightly warmed. The principle involved in this process is of a simple and well known character—resistance producing the light and heat—it being found that enormous heat can be produced by such a method, much greater, in fact, than is necessary to extract iron from the most refractory ores. It is remarked that the value of such a process will be especially exhibited in the more complete and rapid handling of heavy iron and steel plates and bars requiring to be hammered and welded—more valuable still for tempering purposes, as the necessary heat for the immersed portion can be so quickly obtained, while the remaining portion holds comparatively cool.

CONSUMPTION.

Care of the Patient, That His Sufferings May Be Lessened.

The successful treatment of consumption—and by this is meant making the sufferer better able to bear his burden, if not actually lifting it from his shoulders—is largely a question of nursing. If the disease has already gained a foothold medicine in most instances is of no avail except in postponing the evil day, and even if it were otherwise a few general rules would be just as essential to insure the comfort of the patient while recovery is going on.

In the first place, then, we must understand exactly the condition of the consumptive, not so much by ascertaining the location and extent of his disease as by familiarizing ourselves with his temperament, his likes and dislikes, and, above all, with his power of endurance and resistance.

If we will bear these things in mind we may be able to do all that is possible for the sick one—namely, to enable him to withstand the onslaught of the disease until nature shall gain the controlling hand. So successful is this method of treatment that it often results in a complete or at least a temporary cure.

Consumption is one of the most de-vitalizing of diseases. Not only does it attack the lungs, but the action of the nervous system is sooner or later seriously interfered with, the digestion impaired, and the simplest form of excitement renders even the circulation of the blood dangerous from being overactive.

We shall come nearest to striking at the root of all these troubles if we direct our energies toward limiting the frequency and severity of the cough, and in this we have not only to follow the advice of the physician, taking care that his directions are exactly carried out, but we must give careful attention to nursing.

To prevent the first paroxysm of coughing, which is usually incited in the morning by the exertion of rising, a warm cup of tea or an egg nog should be taken before the patient leaves the bed.

A glass of something warm, like hot milk or gruel, should also be taken before retiring, and plenty of time should be allowed in preparing for the bed. The patient should sleep in blankets, and a glass of warm drink should be placed within reach in case he should wake through the night.

If the presence of food in the stomach causes the reappearance of the cough after meals, some suitable preparation of pepsin should be used to hasten the digestion, and an hour or two's rest should be taken immediately after the meal.—Youth's Companion.

AN AVENUE OF IDOLS.

A Double Row of Japanese Buddhas Which Cannot Be Counted.

Close to this interesting pool is the avenue of images, representing the Amida Buddha. The idols vary in size, but are similar in design. There are several hundred of them altogether, and they sit facing one another in two long rows. We asked the little Jap who brought us to the place how many of them there were. In an awed whisper he replied, "Nobody knows." Then he told us how impossible it was to count them. Each image was made unsightly by having numbers of little bits of paper stuck on to it and chewed bits of paper which had been spat at it. The object of this disfigurement we failed to discover, though our friend Hojo informed us they were put on by the young priests, a part of whose novitiate it was to attempt to count the Buddhas.

There is evidently something wrong with these idols, for no one has ever been able to reckon them up the same twice over, in spite of sticking a piece of paper to tick each one off. Of course two unsuspicious Englishmen were not to be humbugged by native stories, so M. (my traveling companion) and I, thinking the whole thing ridiculous, decided to count the mysterious images. We started on co-operative lines, each taking a side of the avenue. Our efforts, however, were fruitless, for we had not numbered off more than a dozen each, before M. (whose eyes were not so good as they had once been) shouted across to me: "I say, I saw one of them on your side moving. I'm certain I did. They're uncanny. Let's give it up." This interruption of course upset all my calculations, but we soon came on the moving image, which turned out to be nothing more than one of the old Frenchmen, seated peacefully among the statues and looking in his white clothes for all the world like a jolly, fat, old Buddha.—Gentleman's Magazine.

4,000 Miles With a Wheelbarrow.

In 1878 Lyman Potter of New York state performed the prodigious task of pushing a common "paddy" wheelbarrow across the continent. He started from his home on Dane street, Albany, on the morning of April 10, 1878, and arrived in San Francisco on the afternoon of Oct. 5 of the same year, being almost exactly 178 days (five hours and three minutes over) in performing the wearisome feat. Potter was a shoe-maker, and the trip was the result of a wager made by some friends who believed that such a trip would occupy at least 200 days. The wager was $1,000, but Potter made between three and five times that sum advertising for different parties along the route. The wheelbarrow was made specially for the use to which it was put and weighed but 75 pounds. The distance traveled by Potter was exactly 4,085 1/4 miles.—St. Louis Republic.

SUNDAY OBSERVANCE.

WHEREAS I have been requested to strictly enforce the provisions of the State law relative to the prohibiting of common labor on Sunday. Therefore I call the attention of the citizens of East Liverpool to the following section of the statutes which will be enforced in both spirit and letter.

SECTION 2683.—Common Labor on Sunday.—Whoever, being over fourteen years of age, engages in common labor on Sunday (work of necessity and charity excepted) shall, on complaint made within ten days thereafter, be fined not more than five dollars; but this section does not extend to those who conscientiously observe the seventh day of the week as the Sabbath. Nor shall it be construed so as to prevent families emigrating from traveling, watermen from landing their passengers, superintendents or keepers of toll bridges or toll gates from tending the same, or ferryman from conveying travelers over waters.

The law construes that a merchant to wait upon his customers and to secure and sell his wares is the common labor of a merchant. There is a broad distinction between this and the case of a single sale out of the ordinary course of business.

Works of necessity within the meaning of the act are not limited to labor for the preservation of life, health or property from impending danger, the necessity may grow out of or indeed be incident to the general course of trade or business and yet be within the exception of the act.

By the phrase, "common labor," is meant ordinary manual labor as contradistinguished from intellectual.

Given under my hand and seal this 30th day of August 1895.
A. V. GILBERT,
Mayor of East Liverpool, O.

EVEN THE SUN SMILED

Making Labor Day Perfect in Point of Weather

AS IT WAS IN OTHER WAYS

Fifteen Hundred Marched in the Parade, and Thousands Saw the Sports at Columbian Park—The Wheelmen All Entered and Rode Hard for Victory—The Greatest Celebration of Its Character Ever Conducted in the City.

The weather of yesterday was perfect, and the 6,000 people who went to Columbian park enjoyed Labor Day and its pleasures as they have never enjoyed a similar occasion.

The sun looked its prettiest as it peeped from a cloudless sky in the morning, and soon had the city awake and stirring. As the streets began to fill with people, and the morning trains poured their floods of humanity to join the crowds already here, the people began to realize that Liverpool was to have an unusually pleasant day if it desired to celebrate the occasion. Few workmen reported at the potteries, and the majority of factories made no pretense at operation. A small number whose work could not be suspended found themselves compelled to pass through the daily routine, but the vast majority, arrayed in their best clothes and looking bright and happy, were in the streets or gathering at the various meeting places of their unions. In the business portion of the city all was bustle and stir, while here and there the clattering of horses' hoofs told of some aid hastening to get his portion of the parade in line. Wells-ville sent a large delegation, while Steubenville and other towns along the river were well represented. The Beaver valley was also here, and the surrounding country sent in an unusually large number of farmers. The crowds began to gather early, and the stirring notes of the bands sounded loud in the air as they marched through the streets. Flags and bunting flew from many buildings in the city, and not a few private residences showed the national colors. There was some delay in forming the procession, but that was accounted for by the early hour at which it was decided to march. Some unions could not gather enough men to make a good showing at the appointed time and the delay was the result, but it was not for long. The crowd appreciated the fact that the start was to be made at Market and Fourth streets, and there it gathered to see Chief Marshal Blake and his aides get the line in order. When the organizations that were to take part began to arrive it did not take a long time to form the procession, and a few minutes after nine all was ready for the start. With bands playing, horses prancing, and colors flying, the column presented a splendid appearance as it swung into Fourth street, and marched proudly toward Broadway in this order:

Chief Marshal Blake
Seven aides
Chief Gill and police
President Hughes and officers
Haynes' band
Glass workers
Kilmen
Cyclers
Sagarmakers
Printers
Carpenters
Warren's band
Clay workers
Decorators
Manley's band
Mayor Gilbert and council
A. J. Boyce delegation
Chief Adam
Fire department.

Crowds lined the pavements as the column moved along, and there were cheers at several points where the friends of some union had massed to make it welcome. The glass workers looked especially well, each man carrying a glass cane, and strong members of the union bearing various artistic designs in glass. The pressers turned out an unusually large number, and the sagarmakers attracted attention because they were headed by a wagon on which two workmen were busily engaged playing their trade. As usual the fire department created favorable comment, every piece of metal having been rubbed until it resembled burnished gold. The horses pranced as proudly as though they realized the attention showered upon them, and the city officials looked their best as they rode along. Taken all in all it was one of the best parades ever seen in the city, and was thoroughly appreciated by the large number of people who witnessed it.

Immediately after the route had been passed over the street cars began to fill, and from that hour until late in the afternoon the crowds were transported to Columbian park. Thousands of people took the cars, and hundreds were carried in hacks and carriages. Superintendent Andrews and his men made a noble effort to carry the passengers, and all the cars were in use during the day. When a car was so full that it would hold no more it made a through run, and passengers along the line were picked up by other cars. Business houses did well during the morning, but at noon doors were closed by general consent, and everyone went to the park, where they spent the afternoon in enjoyment.

The chief attraction there was the sports, and thousands thronged the wooded hillside of the park, and viewed the events as they took place on the track. The bicycle races were popular, and favorite wheelmen were cheered to the echo when they appeared on the track. The first race in the morning was the mile for boys under 14 years of age. It was won by Howard Blake, of the News Review, with several lengths to spare, his opponents, Edward Lomis and George Fowler, crossing in the order named. The time was 3.08.

Miss Katimer won the blindfold race and Miss Parker made a good second. The half mile foot race was the property of A. T. Steel. John Reark was second, Edward Russel third and Adam Gobbert fourth. The time was 2.29. Regie carried off the prize in the horse race, and Sir Oracle was second, the distance being covered in 2.50. One of the best races of the day was the five mile handicap, bicycle, with Irons and Trappe on the scratch. Irons did some hard work, and passed all the contestants, finishing first, while Trappe gave him a very good second. Herbert, an 800 yard man was third; Bott, with 600 yards, came fourth; Laughlin, another 800 yard rider, got fifth, and Jewell, who was on the same mark with Bott, was sixth. The time was 12.53, very good, when it was considered that a strong wind was blowing. Alex Steel won the 150 yard foot race in 15½ seconds, and George Gaston, John Reark and A. T. Steel finished in the order named. Trappe, Hale, Irons, Bott, Laughlin finished in that order in the two mile bicycle, and gave the spectators some very good sport by making the distance in six minutes. There were no entries for the ladies' bicycle race, and Trappe gave an exhibition quarter. He made it in 30 flat, being paced by Irons and Hale on a tandem. Irons rode a half against time with Hale and Trappe on a tandem, doing the distance in 1.04. This finished the bicycle races, and the tug of war was given the potters because the glass workers failed to make their appearance.

The crowd at the park was a jolly, good humored gathering, and there was little if any disorder. One stranger did his best to enter without paying, and was promptly ejected, while a drunk or two was told by the police that they had better go home. Frank Allison, the acting chief, had his hands full looking after the crowd, but he and his men fulfilled their task very well, and have the thanks of all who were there. A fakir wanted to set up a wheel of fortune but was informed that he could not rob the people there, and in spite of the fact that he offered 60 per cent of his winnings to Trades council was ordered to move on. The dancing platform was well patronized, and the young people enjoyed the fun until a late hour. There was a general good feeling in the crowd which could not be mistaken, and the presence of a number of manufacturing potters did much toward showing that any ill-feeling which might have been the outgrowth of the strike is dying away. There were in the neighborhood of 6,000 people on the ground, and the paid admissions will cover all expenses. The newspaper representatives who passed judgment on the parade gave the first prize to the glass workers and the second to the sagarmakers. There were about 1,500 men in line, and of all the unions represented these made the best showing. They had prepared for the event, and were given the benefit of their hard work. The barbers also looked very well, and the carpenters received honorable mention for the part they played.

The prize waltz was one of the best contests of the day, and was won by Mr. William Morrow and Miss Katie Berg, while Mr. Henry Richie and Miss Lena Fry got the second prize. There were a number of contestants, and the rivalry was keen.

Taken all in all the observance of Labor Day was of that character calculated to make those who had it in charge feel proud, and they desire to thank the people who aided to make it a success. The flags which appeared at the residence of Colonel

But the Thief Got Away With the Horse.

SUNDAY WAS A CLOSE DAY

If the Law Was Broken No One Reported It To the Police—Few Arrests Yesterday. General Amnesty for the Few Who Broke the Law—Police Court.

Labor Day was observed by the police with the exercise of unusual vigilance, but it was said to the credit of the city there was little for them to do.

The most important case was that of a man named Swearngen who lives between Georgetown and Hookstown, and came to see the sport yesterday. He drove as far as Chester where he hitched his horse in the grove, and crossed the river. When he returned after a day of pleasure it was to find the horse gone, but the harness placed carefully in the buggy. Numerous inquiries resulted in nothing more than the belief that some one had stolen the animal, and the theft was reported to the authorities.

The police were lenient yesterday and refrained from arresting any one except those not capable of taking care of themselves. One drunk was captured and locked up, but after he had slept off the effects of his debauch he was allowed to go without even the formality of his name being recorded. There were very few drunken people in town, and good order was observed everywhere. Not a fight was reported, and the patrol made no runs.

The business left over from Saturday for the attention of Mayor Gilbert was disposed of because there was little of it for his consideration. Mary Humphries paid $7 for her escapade, and Charles Magill, who was arrested at Fourth and Jefferson streets by Officer Jennings for being disorderly and drunk paid $7.75. Officer Earle got a man named Jackson in the First ward on Saturday night, and he got $6.75 which was paid. He was disorderly.

Sunday was observed in the city as few Sundays have ever been passed through, and very few people failed to obey the order of Mayor Gilbert. No complaints were made at city hall, and the amount of objection from people who neglected to purchase supplies on Saturday night prompts the belief that the day was observed. The papers were delivered and the street cars ran as usual, and it is understood that no effort will be made to stop these conveniences. Many people made their purchases in Wells-ville, and the cars did a good business.

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS REVIEW.
LISBON, Sept. 2.—E. L. Fairbanks today brought suit against the Golding company for $5,000 because he was imprisoned for contempt in the Golding Connors case. He claims no subpoena was ever served on him personally and the imprisonment for contempt was with malicious intent to injure him. He was in jail 36 hours in Liverpool, and 14 days in Lisbon. The cell at Lisbon he describes as filthy and unhealthy, causing him sickness and permanent injury to his health. Hon. R. W. Taylor and P. M. Smith are the attorneys.

George Heckathorn plead guilty before Judge Young today and got 60 days in the workhouse and $50 and costs.

Professor McDonald was today appointed county examiner for a term of three years.

HIT THE CAR.

Almost a Tragedy at the Second Street Switch.

There came near being a tragedy at the Second street crossing on Sunday afternoon, and it was not the fault of the railroad people that a crowded street car passed the track without some one being killed. A flying switch was being made, and a freight car dashed down the track as a motor car passed over. The crowd held their breath in horror, but the motor-man put on the power, and the car escaped with no other damage than a broken dash. The gates are not in operation on Sunday.

A DARING THEFT.

How Two Thieves Got a Pocketbook on Second Street.

Mrs. Joseph Beardmore was walking along Second street on Saturday evening with several bundles in her arms and a pocketbook in her hand. She noticed two men walking toward her, but thought nothing of it until one walked on each side of her, and as they passed one caught her pocket-book. With a quick movement he darted down the street and his accomplice followed. Mrs. Beardmore could do nothing beyond reporting the case to the police, and as there is but little to work on the fellows will probably escape. The purse contained $13 in money and a check for $25. No arrests have yet been made, and it is possible that the pair will escape.

FOR FORTY YEARS.

Mrs. Jeannett Boyd Was a Resident Of This Section.

Mrs. Jeannett Boyd, for 40 years a resident of this immediate vicinity, died at her home on the farm above Walker on Sunday night after an illness of three weeks. Mrs. Boyd was born in Madison township 75 years ago, and has always lived in this county, the greater part of her life having been spent on the home farm where she died. Six children survive her, and her husband died 19 years ago. Services will be held at her late residence on Wednesday at 11 o'clock by Doctor Taggart, and interment will be at the Presbyterian church in Yellow Creek township. Inflammation was the direct cause of death.

THE HORSES RAN.

Then A Czech and His Family Were Thrown Out.

A Czech, of Jackson street, went buggyriding with his family on Sunday morning, and when near the top of Thompson hill the single tree broke and the horses ran away. Mrs. Czech and her sons climbed out of the survey, and in a few minutes were safe, but the husband and a son were left in the carriage. The horses ran until they reached a bridge when they went over and the occupants were thrown out. Recovering themselves the horses ran to Smith's Ferry where they were caught. One of the boys was injured internally, but the others were only bruised.

LOCKED UP.

A New Brighton Youth Wanted By A Liverpool Girl.

A New Brighton paper tells the following story:
"A young man by the name of Jolly is lying in the New Brighton lockup awaiting a hearing on a serious charge made against him by a young woman of East Liverpool. The young people both resided at that place. The information was made at East Liverpool, but Jolly took quick leave of the state. She followed him to this place and again made the charge before Justice Duff. He was arrested and the question has now arisen whether or not the law will be operative against him in this state."

A LONG RIDE.

Hanke, the Skater, In An Entirely New Role.

Hanke, the skater who is well known here, was in town last night but in a new role. He is backed by a Wheeling man to ride a bicycle from Wheeling to New York and return with a side trip to Chicago, and make $150 by giving exhibitions before Oct. 1. Yesterday he had an accident at Empire being forced over the hill by a farmer. He was compelled to carry his wheel to this city where it was repaired. Mayor Gilbert signed his book today.

A PRECEDENT.

Mayor Gilbert Allows No Jury in the Rinehart Trial.

Mayor Gilbert heard the case of McCain against Rinehart this afternoon, but would not allow a jury. In speaking of the matter Attorney Brookes said that the mayor thus established a precedent that could be called into play in the future. It has been the custom to allow almost every one who demanded it a jury trial.

The Sweeper's Success.

The sweeper was on the streets this morning, and made a good showing. Commissioner Welsh also had the sprinkler out, and the streets were given a good cleaning. The sweeper seems to do the work, although it occasionally scares a horse, and is not the prettiest thing in the world. Broadway was as clean as a new pin after it was swept, and Washington street presented a creditable appearance.

A Successful Meeting.

Hollow Rock campmeeting was the mecca for hundreds of Liverpool people on Sunday, and they were well repaid for making the trip. Holiness Taylor delivered a characteristic address, and said some things which amused the large audience within hearing distance. The meeting has been very successful, and thousands of people have visited the camp during the progress of the meeting.

BUSINESS MEN HAVE STRUCK

They Will Have a Regular Working Day in the Future, With No Exceptions Beyond the Month Of December, Saturday and Monday, and Evenings Preceding Holidays.

The business men held a meeting in the Young Men's Christian association rooms last night, and before going home decided that they too would have a regular working day, and stores would close at 6 o'clock.

The plan as adopted is for stores to close each evening during the week except Saturday and Monday, at 6 o'clock and remain closed until the next morning at a reasonable hour. On the evening preceding a holiday all places of business will be open as long as the owner desires, and during the whole of December there is no limit. The clothing men objected to the arrangement because a great deal of their trade is done at night, but it is hoped an agreement will be reached whereby they will be brought into the fold. Of course the grocery and drug stores are not included in the arrangement, but the business houses closed during the summer are as a rule connected with the plan.

PROUDEST MAN IN TOWN.

Professor Sanor Has the Schools Well Started.

Professor Sanor is the proudest man in town today as well as the busiest. The new school building was thrown open this morning, and hundreds of youngsters hurried to occupy their seats. The building is all that could be asked, and juvenile exclamations of wonder were heard on every hand all day. All the teachers are in their places, the scholars have had a long vacation, and everything is in readiness for a season of good work.

Turnkey Chris Bick got on a street car in Wells-ville yesterday morning, and tendering the conductor $10 was informed that it was against the rules to change a bill of greater denomination than $2, and as he had no smaller amount he was put off at Tophet. He was angry at what he believed was an unjust ruling, and will take legal advice to see what can be done toward having redress.

CROW IS A BAD MAN.

TO TEST TEXAS' LAW.

Prizefighters Arrested at Dallas to Try the New Code.

DALLAS, Sept. 3.—In the twenty-first round of the Clark-Cavanaugh glove contest the contest was stopped by the police. Both the principals and James B. Bates, the referee were arrested and are in jail.

This is a case to test the validity of the state law regarding prizefighters. Application for a writ of habeas corpus will at once be made to the court of criminal appeals, the tribunal of last resort. Should the court declare there is no law against glove contests, an application will be made to the supreme court for mandamus compelling the state comptroller to issue a license for the Corbett-Fitzsimmons contest.

A new code has gone into effect in Texas completely changing the civil and criminal laws of the state. It is in this code that the anti-prizefight law is contained, which the attorneys of the Florida Athletic club claim is conflicting and unconstitutional.

LETTERCARRIERS' CONVENTION.

Postmaster General Wilson in Attendance and Reviews the Parade.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 3.—The convention of the letter carriers opened here this morning. It is estimated that there were 5,000 men in line in the big parade.

Postmaster General Wilson reached the city yesterday under the escort of Postmaster Warfield of Baltimore and the letter carriers of that city, 275 strong. The Marine band, which headed the parade, was the feature of the day's exercises. Among those on the reviewing stand were: Postmaster General Wilson, Postmaster Carr of Philadelphia, ex-Governor Pattison, Postmaster Dayton of New York and Heston of Chicago.

THE BATTLE OF SEAN.

Germany Generally Celebrating the Event. Americans Celebrating.

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—Emperor William inaugurated the second day of the festivities in connection with the celebration of the battles of 1870-71 by personally decorating with branches of oak leaves the four corps standards. The emperor then reviewed the German-American veterans.

A New York special says: Germans throughout this country are generally celebrating the anniversary of Sedan.

Schoolteacher Shoots His Pupil.

BLUFFTON, Ind., Sept. 3.—William Beckler, a young schoolteacher, is under a bond of $5,000 for shooting Frank Ifer, a pupil. The affair took place at the Lutheran Baptist church, in the southern part of the county, at a song service. After the service had concluded Ifer followed Beckler to his buggy and struck him twice. The latter then pulled a revolver and ordered his assailant not to repeat the blows. Young Ifer stepped toward Beckler, who fired twice, both balls taking effect in the stomach.

Good Outlook For Wheat.

HENNESSEY, O. T., Sept. 3.—Heavy rains the past two days have put the ground in the best possible condition for fall wheat and a large acreage is assured. Already seed wheat has been shipped to the southern portion of Oklahoma, where wheat was almost a total failure this year. A party of capitalists have leased 6,000 acres between Dover and Okarche and will sow the entire tract.

BIG TERM FOR FRAKER

The Insurance Swindler Will Be Severely Punished.

HIS HEIRS ARE TO BE SUE.

The Insurance Companies Will Endeavor to Recover the $58,000 Paid Them. Witnesses Will Be Charged With Perjury—The Doctor's Arrest.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 3.—Attorneys for the insurance companies interested have drawn up the information that will be lodged against Dr. Fraker, the insurance swindler arrested near Duluth, when he reaches here tomorrow morning. He will be arrested under special session 3826 of the revised statutes of Missouri, which makes it a crime to attempt to defraud by a trick, a cheat, a fraud and deception, false and fraudulent representations and false pretenses. The penalty is seven years in the penitentiary on each count, and Mr. Fraker says that there will be five counts in the indictments which will be brought against Fraker.

Dr. Fraker when he reaches here will be taken direct to Ray county and lodged in jail there, and it is in the criminal court of that county that he will be prosecuted. Mr. Fraker said that Uncle Jack Browley, James Triplett and George Harvey, who swore they saw Fraker drown, will be arrested on the charge of perjury. Suit will be begun at once against the heirs to recover the insurance money paid them.

A Duluth special says: George Fraker of Topeka, Kan., the man who was supposed to have been drowned in the Missouri river two years ago, has been captured in the woods, near Tower, Minn. Fraker's life was insured for $58,000, and the heirs brought suit in the Kansas courts to recover. The case went to the supreme court, and was one of the most famous in annals of this country. The insurance companies were defeated in the final decision, it being recorded last month. It was always maintained by the companies that Fraker was alive, but his whereabouts were unknown. Recently it became known in some way that Fraker was near Tower, where he was known under the alias of Schnell. Attorney Robert T. Harris and Deputy Sheriff Wilkin of Topeka, came here and organized a party to search for him. Fraker was found in the woods and his capture was effected in a strategic manner. He was brought to Duluth and was taken to Topeka at once.

Fraker will go without a requisition. He has been living near Tower for six months. He admitted his identity and said he did not leave home on purpose to defraud the companies, but that while he was near the Missouri river he fell in. He swam across the river and got on land. The next day he read in the papers that he had been drowned, and concluded to carry out the deception and allow his heirs to collect the insurance.

DIED FOR HIS HORSES.

A West Virginian Perishes in Trying to Save His Team and Wagon.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 3.—Elihu Bowman, whose home was in Preston county, near Eglon, has met a horrible death. He was hauling tankard from the woods. The woods were on fire, and the horses took fright and became unmanageable. They rushed towards the blaze, and the wagon caught fire.

Bowman, in trying to save his team and wagon, had his clothes burnt from his body, and his body badly burned. The horses and wagon were destroyed. In his terrible condition Bowman succeeded in reaching a house, but died after 12 hours of great agony.

A Noisy Scene in France.

RAYONNE, Sept. 3.—Serious disturbances followed the police interference with bullfighting here, as mentioned in yesterday's dispatches. An angry mob assembled about the sub-prefecture, crying to the officials to resign and attempting to force open the doors. A detachment of mounted police was summoned, which charged and dispersed the crowd. The mob reassembled in greater numbers and proceeded to the houses of the mayor and police officials, which they pelted with stones. Troops were called out to protect the officials.

Dr. Raue Has Resigned.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 3.—Dr. W. F. Raue, for some time professor of agriculture in the State university and horticulturist at the experiment station, has resigned his chair to accept a more lucrative position in the Agricultural college of New Hampshire.

Shot For Interfering.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 3.—While endeavoring to prevent Fred Chapman from beating his wife, William Davis was fatally shot by the enraged husband.

Ex-Senator Lewis Dead.

RICHMOND, Sept. 3.—Ex-United States Senator J. T. Lewis has died at his home, near Harrisonburg, of a cancerous disease, in the 77th year of his age.

IRISH PARTY IN DANGER.

McCarthy Issues a Manifesto Which May Greatly Injure the Cause.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Justin McCarthy, M. P., leader of the Home Rule party, has issued a manifesto denouncing the nomination of a Healyite candidate for parliament in Kerry, in opposition to the McCarthyite candidate, which is causing a sensation in the lobby of the house of commons. Mr. McCarthy says that the course of the Healyites is an act of treason and that the revolt forces issues whether it be maintained or not. The manifesto was issued without consultation with other members of the Home Rule party or with the consultative committee. It is thought Mr. John Dillon and T. P. O'Connor were alone consulted by Mr. McCarthy.

The Pall Mall Gazette asserts that one of the most respected members of the Irish Home Rule party, who has not been mixed up with any of the party's personal disputes, says that it looks like a final breaking up of the party.

Peary Relief Party Heard From.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Sept. 3.—The first news from the Peary relief expedition since its departure has come by the American schooner John E. Mackenzie returning from the Greenland halibut fishery. The Mackenzie met the Kite with the expedition at Holstenburg on July 15. At Holstenburg the Kite took aboard Prof. Dyche, one of the members of the expedition, and sailed again the same evening. The crew of the Mackenzie think the Kite will have no difficulty in reaching Whale's sound, where Peary's headquarters are located. The return of the relief party is expected about the end of this month.

Claims Part of a Town.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 3.—R. R. Dunbar of Argentine, a suburb of this city, acting for George Washington, a Shawnee Indian, has brought suit to recover 328 acres of choice residence and business property in the west end of that town. Basis of the claim is an old Indian deed, which shows the land to have been patented to Nancy White, a member of the Shawnee tribe of Indians, by the United States government, Dec. 28, 1859. Washington is her grandson and the principal heir. Her heirs claim they never sold the land to any one.

Big Damage by the Mexican Storm.

LAREDO, Tex., Sept. 3.—Later and official reports of the havoc created by the mountain rain in northeastern Mexico prove that the situation is worse than at first reported. Between Monterey and Laredo at least ten miles of telegraph poles are washed away, not to trace of which remain. An estimate of the extent of the damage cannot be made, as almost every bridge between Monterey and Laredo is gone. The loss will probably not be less than $500,000.

Ex-Governor Anderson Dead.

DAYTON, O., Sept. 3.—News has been received here of the death of Charles Anderson, ex-governor of Ohio, at Kuttawa, Ky. He was lieutenant governor under Brough in 1865, and when the latter died assumed the gubernatorial dignity. He was a noted lawyer, married Elizabeth J. Brown here in 1838, was colonel of the famous Ninety-third O. V. I., and is connected with some of the leading families of this city.

To Select Flags For Exhibition.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 3.—In accordance with a letter received by him, from Governor Brown, Director General Miliken of the Grand Army of the Republic has sent a committee composed of two ex-Union soldiers to Frankfort to select from the Kentucky regimental flags, now at Frankfort, such as are desired for exhibition here during the coming encampment. ### Trades Union Congress in Wales.

CARDIFF, Wales, Sept. 3.—The Trades Union congress has opened here with 344 delegates present. The proposed change in the constitution of the body, limiting the choice of delegates to those who are actually working at trades, will, it is expected, encounter much opposition, because it would shut out from participation in future congresses many active trade unionists.

Weaver, who spent most of August in Texas, sends the following report regarding the political conditions in that state to a local paper: "Old party ties are completely dissolved in Texas, and there is not a lingering doubt that the Lone Star state in 1896 will cast her vote by an immense majority for the Populist ticket."

An Appalling Railroad Accident Near Brooklyn.

EXCURSION TRAIN TELESKOPE.

A Wild Engine Crashed Into the Rear of a Crowded Train Standing at a Station. Many Passengers Saved Their Lives by Jumping—Railroaders Arrested.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 3.—An appalling railroad accident has occurred near Woodlawn station, of the Sea Beach railroad, in which 50 people were injured. While train No. 3, drawing 17 cars which were crowded almost to suffocation by excursionists was standing at the Woodlawn station, a wildcat engine came thundering along the tracks on its wake and crashed into the rear car, telescoping it. The car was full of passengers, most of whom came from New York. Many people saw the engine tearing along, and jumped from the train and thus saved their lives. The runaway engine dashed into the rear car, smashing it into kindling wood and burying men, women and children beneath it. The wreck then caught fire and people were rescued with difficulty. Several will probably die.

The severely injured are: Joseph Roe, New York; Abraham Levy, New York; John Blake, Navesink, N. J.; William Gregory, Jersey City; Lizzie Wolf, New York; August Sudebström, New York; Moritz Frankle, New York; Joseph Roeman, New York; Lewis Held, New York; Joseph Freedman, New York, and William Kemp of Brooklyn.

The police authorities have Engineer Frank Jason and Fireman Arthur Ross of the runaway engine under arrest.

The committee expressed the belief that the matter would receive favorable consideration and result in great benefit to the Protestants of Peru, Ecuador and Bolivia.

American Armor Accepted by Russians.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Sept. 3.—The Bethlehem Iron company has been advised by cable of another successful armor plate test in Russia. The plate tested represented a lot of 7-inch armor made by the company for the Russian battleships Senavin and Oushakoff. The test took place at St. Petersburg and was very satisfactory to the Russian ordnance officers. The Russian government has now accepted all the armor plate made here for the vessels.

Starving Armenians Out.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The Westminster Gazette claims to have received details of great inhumanity upon the part of Turkish officials at Sassoun, who are said to be preventing the distribution of relief to the starving Armenians. It is added that the number of deaths among the latter is increasing daily, and it is claimed that it is the deliberate policy of the Turkish government to exterminate the remaining refugees by starvation.

A Police Force Without Funds.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 3.—Consternation was caused in the police department when Mayor Davis refused to certify to the August payroll because the department had overdrawn the monthly assessment to the amount of $800. As two of the police commissioners are out of the city, no action can be taken for a week's time. As a result the force is temporarily without funds, and considerable bad humor has resulted.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The trolley wire was down at Walker last night, and passengers were transferred.

Willie King, of the glass works, has secured a position in New York, and will go there next week.

The Columbian club entertained with one of those pleasant informal dances for which they are becoming noted last night.

The differences between the glass workers and the Specialty company have been amicably adjusted, and the men are again at work.

William Jackson, a cooper residing on Second street, was at work yesterday when an axe slipped and gave him a painful cut on his foot.

Doctor Huston yesterday said the words which made Mr. Samuel Booth and Miss Annie M. Heroes husband and wife. Both reside in this city.

All the barber shops were closed all of yesterday, the first time in the history of the city when the knights of the razor took a holiday to themselves.

Bert Chambers went to New Wilmington yesterday, where he will enter college there as a student. Mr. Meador and John Hanley will leave for the same school later in the week.

A crowded street car left the track at Brady's on Sunday evening, and there was some commotion among the passengers for a short time. It did no greater damage than to injure the schedule.

The Columbias and the Gyms played ball in East End on Saturday afternoon, and the Columbias won by a score of 27-7. Chambers and Phillips, Price and Specht made up the batteries.

Tom York, the rider, went to Youngstown on Saturday, where he is entered in the races today, and Hale, Trappe and Irons go out tonight. The boys expect to capture their share of the prizes.

While riding in the Diamond yesterday morning Charley Ogden, the little son of Doctor Ogden, fell from his pony, and the little animal ran away. Fortunately the fall was not great, and Charley escaped with a few bruises.

The Cleveland train on Saturday afternoon was one of the largest ever seen on this road. The occasion was an excursion, with a ride on the lake, and a number of Liverpool people made the trip. They returned yesterday morning.

The question of slackwatering the Ohio is receiving a great deal of attention in Pittsburgh, and the story is published that Senator Quay is at the head of a movement to have the four dams between Beaver and Davis Island placed before congress at once.

The drop in the mercury on Saturday night made Sunday and yesterday the most delightful weather imaginable, and Liverpool enjoyed it as only Liverpool can. Almost every carriage in town was in commission Sunday, and wheelmen by the score rode to nearby towns.

Toadix Carey has again caught the Baltimore fancy, and the papers are saying all sorts of nice things about the splendid manner in which he plays the national game. Sporting Life last week, an authority on professional ball, paid him a complement that should raise his salary.

Lynn Boyd Atkinson, the newspaper man who is well known here because of various scrapes into which he has succeeded in getting himself, has been released from jail in Pittsburgh, where he was confined on a sentence for misrepresenting himself at a prominent hotel. Extenuating circumstances warranted his release.

"There goes an evidence that a paved road to the East End is needed," said Doctor Marshall yesterday as a broken vehicle passed him on the road. The tongue was badly twisted, and the survey had other evidence of having had a hard time. The damage was done on the miserable road which now does duty between the city proper and the East End.

Preparations for the tri-state field day of the Young Men's Christian association have reached that point where the local organization knows that it will be a complete success. Entries for the events are coming in, and some of the best amateur athletes in this part of the country are expected to take an active part. Liverpool will have a good team on the ground.

A good snake story comes from Grant district, where a well-known potter of this city called on the young women who will soon take up her residence here Sunday afternoon. They were sitting near a spring enjoying the beautiful breeze when he felt something glide over his ankle, and the girl gave a shriek. Glancing in that direction he saw a copperhead as thick as his wrist and about 20 inches long, its head little eyes glistening dangerously. Reaching a stick that was near he soon dispatched the snake but not before the girl had scampered away; and great beads of sweat stood on his forehead.

They Are Here.

Not all of them, of course, but enough to make you wonder if it will be possible for us to sell one-half of them. We know what we can do, and long before manufacturers had been notified that they would have to pay an advance on cloth, we had completed our arrangements for our fall delivery, and they are coming in—box after box of the newest ideas for Fall and Winter wear in Ladies', Misses' and Children's Cloaks.

Our Cloak Business

Has grown until we feel that we would be lacking in good business judgment if in any way we should neglect to arrange for the largest cloak business our house has ever enjoyed. Times are bracing up and in every way we feel more confident than we did one year ago.

The Prices.

We have always said that we can save you money on Cloaks, but this year we make the assertion at the start off that by a peculiar arrangement of circumstances, we are in a position to sell you garments on a positive guarantee of a saving of money to you. This is no bluster, but a cold, hard fact that we will prove to you if you go to the trouble to investigate.

Assortment Of Styles.

You can buy Cloaks of almost all dealers in Dry Goods, and the majority of them are sure that they have just what you want, but if you stop a moment to consider that only about one house in each city gives the cloak business enough of time or space that it should have to guarantee its success, you will not wonder that we claim to lead the cloak business in styles and prices. Our entire second floor is used for this line. Lady sales people who are adepts in this line are in charge. We handle more Cloaks than any other store in the county. Our factories are the best known and have the reputation of turning out the finest styles in the country, and selling in large quantities we are able to make closer prices. Come and see our line.

OHIO'S SOLDIER BOYS

Camp Howe at Newark Occupied by Hundreds.

COMPANY E IS WELL LOCATED

And Enjoying Themselves Immensely—The First Day in Camp—A Hard Week's Work Ahead of Them—Notes of Camp Life.

Camp Howe, Newark, O., Sept. 2.—Here is the home of the soldiers, or a part of those who wear the blue cloth and brass buttons, which tell that they are the guardians of the state of Ohio. Here the acres of state ground are dotted with tents, for it is the abiding place of the Eighth regiment.

At 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon the first companies, I F and L, of Canton, arrived on the ground, accompanied by the hospital corps of twelve men. Twenty minutes later Company E, of East Liverpool, left the train and started on a march of two miles to the camp. Fortunately the tents were already in position when they came to their journey's end. Otherwise the Liverpool soldiers would have preferred sleeping on the ground, for the march had made them weary. The preliminaries were many, but soon the tents were well filled, racks provided for the equipments, benches made for the comfort of soldiers and visitors alike, and when darkness came everything was in apple pie order. Later permission was given all to go to Newark and they lost no time in starting for the street car line. The soldiers took possession of Newark as they take possession of every place they visit and a charitable picket admitted those who were late in returning.

On their way to town the boys passed the Eighth regiment band, Company B, of Akron, K of Alliance, M of Mansfield, and H of Shreve. Today nearly all the companies are on the ground and the boys are greeting each other with a familiarity contracted at the McClainsville camp during the strike of '94.

The scene on the camp ground today is a beautiful one. Two hundred or more tents arranged in neat rows on the big field are on the left of the big flag pole from which Old Glory flutters in the breeze. Further to the east, and in a little grove are the tents of the regimental officers and their wives, while Colonel Gyger's tent is marked by two handsome flags. A few soldiers are going through the movements of guard mount, but Company E does not have to work until tomorrow. They are taking it easy today and enjoying compliments from the officers and members of other companies, as well as the regimental officers, on their improved appearance. Tomorrow the entire regiment will have the following duty and will continue during the week:

Standard time—Reveille 5:30; breakfast 6; sick call 7; fatigue call 7:15; guard mounting 7:30; assembling for drill 9:30; recall from drill 11; first sergeants call 11:15; dinner call 11:30; officers' school 12:30; non commissioned officers' school 12:30; assembly for drill 1:30; recall from drill 3; parade 4; retreat 4:30; supper call 5; guard mounting 5:45; tattoo 10; taps 10:30.

Among the Soldiers.

Company E ate their first meal in camp this morning with "everything good to eat," and Cook Will Temple served everything to suit.

Among the soldiers are two former Liverpool boys, Samuel Prudence, of Company A, Bucyrus, and Joe Ball, of B, Akron.

A novel feature of the camp ground is that it is lighted by electricity, a number of big arc lights being located at the edge of the grove with the electric plant nearby.

Private James Moore had a narrow escape from being snuck. Private Davis playfully knocked his cap out of the window while on the train. An officers' unused cap saved his life.

Corporal Blake is making himself popular by setting up peaches to the boys today and your correspondent pauses to enjoy them. Blake is somewhat of a peach himself.

A ball game and a big dance are on the boards for this week, both being schemes of Company E.

Privates Jack Salisbury, Ed Morley and Al Mackintosh are Cook Temple's assistants and good workers.

The guard house held six victims last night and they are being punished by being compelled to clean up the grounds today. SKARIK.

Taylor and other manufacturers gave the occasion a spirit which means much for the future of the city. If all Labor Day celebrations can be on a par with that of yesterday it will soon become a day to which all can look forward with pleasure.

STRUCK BY A WHEEL.

An Accident On the Track Yesterday Afternoon.

When the crowd was most interested in the two mile bicycle race at the park yesterday afternoon, and the riders were coming down the home stretch at a high rate of speed a small boy named Hiner Kipner got on the course, and was struck by Hale, who had no time to turn out. The youngster was knocked down and rolled over half a dozen times, while the rider came to earth with a crash. The special police cared for them, and the little fellow was soon all right, although a red mark on his stomach and a cut on his chin showed where he had been hurt. Hale lost some skin off his face, but secured second place, for he was thrown over the scratch.

Dunlay hat is noted for quality and style. For sale at JOSEPH BROS.

Carried the Crowd.

The street railway hauled the crowds in splendid style yesterday, and carried 12000 people between the hour when the first car started out in the morning and the last weary motor-man shut off the power at night. All the windows were nailed down, and the people were kept off the roofs. The published statement that the trestle was safe had much to do with the patronage. Superintendent Andrews hopes to have patrons of the line ride in summer cars next year.

Good health is a precious boon and those who enjoy it should preserve it at whatever cost. ### They Want a Race.

A special to the NEWS REVIEW from Lisbon today conveys the intelligence that the club there will challenge Tommy York for a five mile race with J. F. Steel on the second day of the fair for $100 a side. York is not a track rider, his best efforts being on the road, but it is possible that a sufficient number of his friends will take up the challenge and issue another with other conditions and more money attached to it.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Caillouette, druggist, Beaversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at T. L. Pott's Drug store.

Going to Pittsburg.

The announcement is made today that James E. Orr will dispose of his business interests in this city and will go to Pittsburg where he will manage the Bijou theater. The position is a desirable one, and Mr. Orr will undoubtedly be as successful as he has been in Liverpool.

School Supplies.

The largest assortment and the lowest prices. Tablets at 1, 2, 3, 5 and 10 cents. Single slates at 2, 3, 4 and 5 cents. Double slates at 10, 13, 15, and 20c. Slate pencils, inks, and lead pencils at away down prices, at FERGUSON & HILL, 5 and 10 cent store.

Thanks to Patsy Kernan.

The township trustees desire to publicly thank Patsy Kernan for a huge basket of sandwiches that he gave them this morning for distribution among the poor of the city.

The Convict's Daughter.

The "Convict's Daughter" attracted a large audience to the Grand last evening, and theater goers were pleased with the performance. The company will present one of their best plays this evening.

Saved His Life

—by a fortunate discovery in the nick of time. Hundreds of persons suffering from consumption have had the progress of the disease stopped, and have been brought back to life and health by the "Golden Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce.

Years ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, now chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., recognizing the fact that consumption was essentially a germ disease, and that a remedy which would drive the germs and their poisons from the blood would cure consumption, at last found a medicine which cured 95 per cent. of all cases, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease.

The tissues of the lungs being irritated by the germs and poisons in the blood circulating through them, the germs find lodgment there, and the lungs begin to break down. Soon the general health begins to fail, and the person feels languid, weak, faint, drowsy and confused.

This is the time to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery; it drives the germs and poisons from the blood, and has a soothing effect upon the dry cough. In cases of bronchitis the "Discovery" is invaluable. "Golden Medical Discovery" increases the amount and quality of the blood, thus invigorating and fortifying the system against disease and builds up wholesome flesh and strength after wasting diseases, as fevers, pneumonia, grip and other debilitating affections.

JNO. M. HITE, of Andover, Me., writes: "I took a severe cold which settled on my lungs and chest, and I suffered intensely with it. I tried several of our best physicians here and they gave up all hopes of my recovery, and thought I would have to die. I would cough and spit blood for hours, and I was pale and weak. I was greatly discouraged when I began the use of the 'Discovery,' but I soon got better. It has been five years since I took it and have had no return of that trouble since."

AN ENGLISH CASUAL.

WHERE TRAMPS GET FOOD AND LODGING FOR WORK.

Joshua Flynt and a Companion Wind Up a Study of Tramp Life in England by a Visit to a "Spoke"—Meeting With a Great Friend of Mark Twain.

Joshua Flynt, who has given interesting studies on tramp life in Germany and in this country, has extended his investigations to England. He writes a paper entitled, "Two Tramps in England" in Century. He and his companion, a German student, completed a tour through the provinces with an experience in a "casual" at Notting Hill, London. Mr. Flynt writes:

We appeared at the door of the ward about half past 7 in the evening. A little window was raised, and I stepped forward to state my business. Unconsciously I leaned against the sill of the window, which offended the inspector in charge considerably.

"What's your name?" he thundered. Still leaning on the sill, I gave him my name honestly enough. He then remarked to some person inside that we were not accustomed to such places evidently, and called out, "Stand back, will you?" Back I stood. He cried out again, "Take off your hat!" My hat came off instantly. Still again: "You come in here as if you were a meeleonary. You're not. You're a casual." I was as meek as could well be. Ryborg was itching to grab the inspector with his long arms. The next question was as to where we had slept the night before.

"Straw stack," I replied.

"None of your impudence! You slept out. Why don't you say so? Have you got any money?"

"A hap'enny, sir."

"Hand it in." In it went. Then I had to tell my trade, which was that of a sailor, and naturally the next question was as to where I was bound.

"To Ameriky, sir, if I can ever get there."

"You're goin to tramp it, aren't you?"

"Yes, sir; that's my intention." But for the life of me I could not see how I was to reach America that way. I was so frightened that I would have told him anything he wanted.

When he was through with us, a kind hearted attendant took us in hand, gave us some grub and bread, a bath, clean night shirts, and then a cell apiece, in which we slept very well.

As there were only four inmates that morning we were needed for the cleaning up, and so escaped stone breaking, which I dreaded exceedingly, and were put at various light occupations—or rather I was. Ryborg was the victim of his strength. Our breakfast consisted of the same dish as our supper of the night before. I was soon busy as general fireman, scrubber, kufy cleaner, coal carrier, dish washer and helper of my sister sufferer, Mrs. Murphy, as she washed her task of towels and shirts. At noon we had pea soup and bread. I enjoyed it, but Ryborg did not. The poor fellow was feeling badly. He had had to scrub nearly 20 cells, and the bending over incident to such a feat had nearly broken his back. At dinner he said plaintively, "Flynt, I want to go home." "So do I," I replied, "but I fancy we're wanted here till tomorrow morning." This proved to be the case, but he felt better in the afternoon and got through comfortably, wheeling nearly a ton of stone from some of the cells to the general pile. He earned his "keep," if ever any poor prisoner did.

I fear I was more shiftless, for about the middle of the afternoon the attendant who was with me at the furnace said: "You might as well rest. Just keep your eyes on the fires, that's all." It was kind of him, and as I had at least earned my pea soup and grub I took his advice. He was kinder to me, I think, because I gave him a corncock pipe which he had had to take away from me the night before. During the day he had asked me several questions about it, and I said, "It's a very decent sort of pipe—coolinlike, you know."

"Doesn't Mark Twain always smoke one o' them pipes?" said he.

"Blest if I know," said I, "but I can well think it."

"I'm a great friend of Mark Twain," he pursued, "an I'm a-thinkin' o' gettin one o' them pipes, jest out of respect for him."

"Well," said I, "permit me in the name of your respect to present you with my pipe. Besides you've got it anyhow." He thanked me profusely, and promised to keep it forever. Later in the day he reported it to be just as I had said, "sort o' coolin like." And he was a good friend to me all the rest of my stay in the Notting Hill station.

On Wednesday morning we were turned loose with our two hap'ennies. We were both so happy that we decided to get off the road that very day.

We had been tramps for three weeks, and had walked most of this time fully 15 miles a day. So we looked up my friend at the Temple, and in a few hours were respectable again. That same day I took my tramp clothes out to the casual ward and presented them to my friend the attendant. I had told him the day before that I expected to get new "togs" soon, and he had put in a plea for my old ones. Good luck to him and them.

EVEN THE SUN SMILED

Making Labor Day Perfect in Point of Weather

AS IT WAS IN OTHER WAYS

Fifteen Hundred Marched in the Parade, and Thousands Saw the Sports at Columbian Park—The Wheelmen All Entered and Rode Hard for Victory—The Greatest Celebration of Its Character Ever Conducted in the City.

The weather of yesterday was perfect, and the 6,000 people who went to Columbian park enjoyed Labor Day and its pleasures as they have never enjoyed a similar occasion.

The sun looked its prettiest as it peeped from a cloudless sky in the morning, and soon had the city awake and stirring. As the streets began to fill with people, and the morning trains poured their floods of humanity to join the crowds already here, the people began to realize that Liverpool was to have an unusually pleasant day if it desired to celebrate the occasion. Few workmen reported at the potteries, and the majority of factories made no pretense at operation. A small number whose work could not be suspended found themselves compelled to pass through the daily routine, but the vast majority, arrayed in their best clothes and looking bright and happy, were in the streets or gathering at the various meeting places of their unions. In the business portion of the city all was bustle and stir, while here and there the clattering of horses hoofs told of some aid hastening to get his portion of the parade in line. Wells-ville sent a large delegation, while Steubenville and other towns along the river were well represented. The Beaver valley was also here, and the surrounding country sent in an unusually large number of farmers. The crowds began to gather early, and the stirring notes of the bands sounded loud in the air as they marched through the streets. Flags and bunting flew from many buildings in the city, and not a few private residences showed the national colors. There was some delay in forming the procession, but that was accounted for by the early hour at which it was decided to march. Some unions could not gather enough men to make a good showing at the appointed time and the delay was the result, but it was not for long. The crowd appreciated the fact that the start was to be made at Market and Fourth streets, and there it gathered to see Chief Marshal Blake and his aides get the line in order. When the organizations that were to take part began to arrive it did not take a long time to form the procession, and a few minutes after nine all was ready for the start. With bands playing, horses prancing, and colors flying, the column presented a splendid appearance as it swung into Fourth street, and marched proudly toward Broadway in this order:

Chief Marshal Blake
Seven aides
Chief Gill and police
President Hughes and officers
Haynes' band
Glass workers
Kilmen
Cyclers
Sagarmakers
Printers
Carpenters
Warren's band
Clay workers
Decorators
Manley's band
Mayor Gilbert and council
A. J. Boyce delegation
Chief Adam
Fire department.

Crowds lined the pavements as the column moved along, and there were cheers at several points where the friends of some union had massed to make it welcome. The glass workers looked especially well, each man carrying a glass cane, and strong members of the union bearing various artistic designs in glass. The pressers turned out an unusually large number, and the sagarmakers attracted attention because they were headed by a wagon on which two workmen were busily engaged playing their trade. As usual the fire department created favorable comment, every piece of metal having been rubbed until it resembled burnished gold. The horses pranced as proudly as though they realized the attention showered upon them, and the city officials looked their best as they rode along. Taken all in all it was one of the best parades ever seen in the city, and was thoroughly appreciated by the large number of people who witnessed it.

Immediately after the route had been passed over the street cars began to fill, and from that hour until late in the afternoon the crowds were transported to Columbian park. Thousands of people took the cars, and hundreds were carried in hacks and carriages. Superintendent Andrews and his men made a noble effort to carry the passengers, and all the cars were in use during the day. When a car was so full that it would hold no more it made a through run, and passengers along the line were picked up by other cars. Business houses did well during the morning, but at noon doors were closed by general consent, and everyone went to the park, where they spent the afternoon in enjoyment.

The chief attraction there was the sports, and thousands thronged the wooded hillside of the park, and viewed the events as they took place on the track. The bicycle races were popular, and favorite wheelmen were cheered to the echo when they appeared on the track. The first race in the morning was the mile for boys under 14 years of age. It was won by Howard Blake, of the News Review, with several lengths to spare, his opponents, Edward Lomis and George Fowler, crossing in the order named. The time was 3.08.

Miss Katimer won the blindfold race and Miss Parker made a good second. The half mile foot race was the property of A. T. Steel. John Reark was second, Edward Russell third and Adam Gobbett fourth. The time was 2.29. Regie carried off the prize in the horse race, and Sir Oracle was second, the distance being covered in 2.50. One of the best races of the day was the five mile handicap, bicycle, with Irons and Trappe on the scratch. Irons did some hard work, and passed all the contestants, finishing first, while Trappe gave him a very good second. Herbert, an 800 yard man was third; Bott, with 600 yards, came fourth; Laughlin, another 800 yard rider, got fifth, and Jewell, who was on the same mark with Bott, was sixth. The time was 12.53, very good, when it was considered that a strong wind was blowing. Alex Steel won the 150 yard foot race in 151 seconds, and George Gaston, John Reark and A. T. Steel finished in the order named. Trappe, Hale, Irons, Bott, Laughlin finished in that order in the two mile bicycle, and gave the spectators some very good sport by making the distance in six minutes. There were no entries for the ladies' bicycle race, and Trappe gave an exhibition quarter. He made it in 30 flat, being paced by Irons and Hale on a tandem. Irons rode a half against time with Hale and Trappe on a tandem, doing the distance in 1.04. This finished the bicycle races, and the tug of war was given the potters because the glass workers failed to make their appearance.

The crowd at the park was a jolly, good humored gathering, and there was little if any disorder. One stranger did his best to enter without paying, and was promptly ejected, while a drunk or two was told by the police that they had better go home. Frank Allison, the acting chief, had his hands full looking after the crowd, but he and his men fulfilled their task very well, and have the thanks of all who were there. A fakir wanted to set up a wheel of fortune but was informed that he could not rob the people there, and in spite of the fact that he offered 60 per cent of his winnings to Trades council was ordered to move on. The dancing platform was well patronized, and the young people enjoyed the fun until a late hour. There was a general good feeling in the crowd which could not be mistaken, and the presence of a number of manufacturing potters did much toward showing that any ill-feeling which might have been the outgrowth of the strike is dying away. There were in the neighborhood of 6,000 people on the ground, and the paid admissions will cover all expenses. The newspaper representatives who passed judgment on the parade gave the first prize to the glass workers and the second to the sagarmakers. There were about 1,500 men in line, and of all the unions represented these made the best showing. They had prepared for the event, and were given the benefit of their hard work. The barbers also looked very well, and the carpenters received honorable mention for the part they played.

The prize waltz was one of the best contests of the day, and was won by Mr. William Morrow and Miss Katie Berg, while Mr. Henry Richie and Miss Lena Fry got the second prize. There were a number of contestants, and the rivalry was keen.

Taken all in all the observance of Labor Day was of that character calculated to make those who had it in charge feel proud, and they desire to thank the people who aided to make it a success. The flags which appeared at the residence of Colonel

But the Thief Got Away With
the Horse.

SUNDAY WAS A CLOSE DAY

If the Law Was Broken No One Reported It To the Police—Few Arrests Yesterday. General Amnesty For the Few Who Broke the Law—Police Court.

Labor Day was observed by the police with the exercise of unusual vigilance, but be it said to the credit of the city there was little for them to do.

The most important case was that of a man named Swarengen who lives between Georgetown and Hookstown, and came to see the sport yesterday. He drove as far as Chester where he hitched his horse in the grove, and crossed the river. When he returned after a day of pleasure it was to find the horse gone, but the harness placed carefully in the buggy. Numerous inquiries resulted in nothing more than the belief that some one had stolen the animal, and the theft was reported to the authorities.

The police were lenient yesterday and refrained from arresting any one except those not capable of taking care of themselves. One drunk was captured and locked up, but after he had slept off the effects of his debauch he was allowed to go without even the formality of his name being recorded. There were very few drunken people in town, and good order was observed everywhere. Not a fight was reported, and the patrol made no runs.

The business left over from Saturday for the attention of Mayor Gilbert was disposed of because there was little of it for his consideration. Mary Humphries paid $7 for her escapade, and Charles Magill, who was arrested at Fourth and Jefferson streets by Officer Jennings for being disorderly and drunk paid $7.50. Officer Earle got a man named Jackson in the first ward on Saturday night, and he got $6.75 which was paid. He was disorderly.

Sunday was observed in the city as few Sundays have ever been passed through, and very few people failed to obey the order of Mayor Gilbert. No complaints were made at city hall, and the amount of objection from people who neglected to purchase supplies on Saturday night prompts the belief that the day was observed. The papers were delivered and the street cars ran as usual, and it is understood that no effort will be made to stop these conveniences. Many people made their purchases in Wells-ville, and the cars did a good business.

FAIRBANKS WANTS MONEY.

He Sued the Golding Company For $5,000 Damages.

Special to the News Review.
Lisbon, Sept. 2.—E. L. Fairbanks today brought suit against the Golding company for $5,000 because he was imprisoned for contempt in the Golding Connors case. He claims no subpoenae was ever served on him personally and the imprisonment for contempt was with malicious intent to injure him. He was in jail 36 hours in Liverpool, and 14 days in Lisbon. The cell at Lisbon he describes as filthy and unhealthy, causing him sickness and permanent injury to his health. Hon. R. W. Taylor and P. M. Smith are the attorneys.

George Heckathorn plead guilty before Judge Young today and got 60 days in the workhouse and $50 and costs.

Professor McDonald was today appointed county examiner for a term of three years.

HIT THE CAR.

Almost a Tragedy at the Second Street Switch.

There came near being a tragedy at the Second street crossing on Sunday afternoon, and it was not the fault of the railroad people that a crowded street car passed the track without some one being killed. A flying switch was being made, and a freight car dashed down the track as a motor car passed over. The crowd held their breath in horror, but the motor-man put on the power, and the car escaped with no other damage than a broken dash. The gates are not in operation on Sunday.

A DARING THEFT.

How Two Thieves Got a Pocketbook on Second Street.

Mrs. Joseph Beardmore was walking along Second street on Saturday evening with several bundles in her arms and a pocketbook in her hand. She noticed two men walking toward her, but thought nothing of it until one walked on each side of her, and as they passed one caught her pocketbook. With a quick movement he darted down the street and his accomplice followed. Mrs. Beardmore could do nothing beyond reporting the case to the police, and as there is but little to work on the fellows will probably escape. The purse contained $13 in money and a check for $25. No arrests have yet been made, and it is possible that the pair will escape.

FOR FORTY YEARS.

Mrs. Jeannett Boyd Was a Resident Of This Section.

Mrs. Jeannett Boyd, for 40 years a resident of this immediate vicinity, died at her home on the farm above Walker on Sunday night after an illness of three weeks. Mrs. Boyd was born in Madison township 75 years ago, and has always lived in this county, the greater part of her life having been spent on the home farm where she died. Six children survive her, and her husband died 19 years ago. Services will be held at her late residence on Wednesday at 11 o'clock by Doctor Taggart, and interment will be at the Presbyterian church in Yellow Creek township. Inflammation was the direct cause of death.

THE HORSES RAN.

Then A. Czech and His Family Were Thrown Out.

A. Czech, of Jackson street, went buggyriding with his family on Sunday morning, and when near the top of Thompson hill the single tree broke and the horses ran away. Mrs. Czech and her sons climbed out of the surrey, and in a few minutes were safe, but the husband and a son were left in the carriage. The horses ran until they reached a bridge when they went over and the occupants were thrown out. Recovering themselves the horses ran to Smith's Ferry where they were caught. One of the boys was injured internally, but the others were only bruised.

LOCKED UP.

A New Brighton Youth Wanted By a Liverpool Girl.

A New Brighton paper tells the following story:

"A young man by the name of Jolly is lying in the New Brighton lockup awaiting a hearing on a serious charge made against him by a young woman of East Liverpool. The young people both resided at that place. The information was made at East Liverpool, but Jolly took quick leave of the state. She followed him to this place and again made the charge before Justice Duff. He was arrested and the question has now arisen whether or not the law will be operative against him in this state."

A LONG RIDE.

Hanke, the Skater, In An Entirely New Role.

Hanke, the skater who is well known here, was in town last night but in a new role. He is backed by a Wheeling man to ride a bicycle from Wheeling to New York and return with a side trip to Chicago, and make $150 by giving exhibitions before Oct. 1. Yesterday he had an accident at Empire being forced over the hill by a farmer. He was compelled to carry his wheel to this city where it was repaired. Mayor Gilbert signed his book today.

A PRECEDENT.

Mayor Gilbert Allows No Jury in the Rinehart Trial.

Mayor Gilbert heard the case of McCain against Rinehart this afternoon, but would not allow a jury. In speaking of the matter Attorney Brookes said that the mayor thus established a precedent that could be called into play in the future. It has been the custom to allow almost every one who demanded it a jury trial.

The Sweeper a Success.

The sweeper was on the streets this morning, and made a good showing. Commissioner Welsh also had the sprinkler out, and the streets were given a good cleaning. The sweeper seems to do the work, although it occasionally scares a horse, and is not the prettiest thing in the world. Broadway was as clean as a new pin after it was swept, and Washington street presented a creditable appearance.

A Successful Meeting.

Hollow Rock campmeeting was the mecca for hundreds of Liverpool people on Sunday, and they were well repaid for making the trip. Holliness Taylor delivered a characteristic address, and said some things which amused the large audience within hearing distance. The meeting has been very successful, and thousands of people have visited the camp during the progress of the meeting.

BUSINESS MEN HAVE STRUCK

They Will Have a Regular Working Day in the Future, With No Exceptions Beyond the Month Of December, Saturday and Monday, and Evenings Preceding Holidays.

The business men held a meeting in the Young Men's Christian association rooms last night, and before going home decided that they too would have a regular working day, and stores would close at 6 o'clock.

The plan as adopted is for stores to close each evening during the week except Saturday and Monday, at 6 o'clock and remain closed until the next morning at a reasonable hour. On the evening preceding a holiday all places of business will be open as long as the owner desires, and during the whole of December there is no limit. The clothing men objected to the arrangement because a great deal of their trade is done at night, but it is hoped an agreement will be reached whereby they will be brought into the fold. Of course the grocery and drug stores are not included in the arrangement, but the business houses closed during the summer are as a rule connected with the plan.

PROUDEST MAN IN TOWN.

Professor Sanor Has the Schools Well Started.

Professor Sanor is the proudest man in town today as well as the busiest. The new school building was thrown open this morning, and hundreds of youngsters hurried to occupy their seats. The building is all that could be asked, and juvenile exclamations of wonder were heard on every hand all day. All the teachers are in their places, the scholars have had a long vacation, and everything is in readiness for a season of good work.

THE election of every Republican candidate in Columbiana county is assured by increased majorities now that Coxey has attacked the existing court house administration.

THE Democratic organization in this county is a fair sample of what it is in every other part of the state—Brice and his lieutenants have it by the nose and with every pull elicit a groan, but it does the work just the same.

NAUSEATING as it is the free silver Democrats are swallowing Mr. Brice's gold standard pill with the best possible grace. Some of them are even trying to get out of the rain, and are making the best of the punishment dealt out by the iron hand they fear so much.

PERHAPS the Democrats, who are so anxious about the "miserable manner in which the finances of Ohio have been handled by the Republican party," will explain why the national administration which they endorse is plunging the country deeper into debt every day. It would be interesting to know how they observe these things.

WHERE WAS WILSON?

Not long ago an Albany newspaper discovered that Professor Wilson, the college professor who imagined he was a statesman a year ago, was lost.
Diligently they searched for him among the great and mighty of the nation, heroically they toiled in the hope of disclosing his whereabouts, but without avail. He had disappeared, and the paper in question declared that he was at work upon some other plan equally as foolish as the tariff bill, for working in whose interest he was rewarded by the president with an $8,000 job. Now, however, the American Economist comes to the rescue. It has found the top heavy professor, and tells of its discovery in a way that is particularly interesting to East Liverpool.

"Wilson is not lost; he has been found. He was slumbering by the seaside with friend Strauss, probably arranging a new tariff schedule whereby pottery and crockery ware, such as is manufactured in Strauss' cheap labor factories of Europe, can be admitted into this country at a still lower rate of duty, as the next step toward absolute free trade."

Yes, that is Wilson's brand of patriotism. He can never be found with Americans or the friends of America if it is possible for him to hobnob with their enemies. It is a part of Mr. Wilson's nature to be antagonistic to his country. Then, like his free trade ideas, it is so English, you know.

CROW IS A BAD MAN.

The Cincinnati Arrest an Important One.

WANTED ON MANY CHARGES.

He Shot Four People in Chicago While Being Pursued For Robbery—Wanted
For Train Robbery in Missouri—Stole Diamonds in Minnesota.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 3.—Patrick Crow, arrested at the delivery window of the postoffice in this city, is the man who robbed a demi monde resort in Chicago of jewelry and cash some years ago, ran into the street and shot two policemen and two citizens who pursued him. He was wanted for train robbery at St. Joe, Mo., for a diamond robbery in St. Paul, and for various other crimes.

Colonel Deitch, superintendent of the police, received a telegram about the same time two weeks ago saying that Crow was in hiding in this city. One came from St. Paul, where he was wanted for a big diamond robbery; another from St. Joe, Mo., saying he should be captured by all means for a train robbery committed there; the third was from the Pinkerton agency saying he was wanted at Denver for express robberies, and at other places for various crimes. It was said that Crow had been in prison in the St. Joe (Mo.) jail and that he escaped from there by means of a saw given him by a confederate.

Some one saw a man answering his description board a train for Cincinnati and on this slender clue the search for him began. The St. Paul letter said it was known that he had confederates in this vicinity. Chief Deitch was notified of his various names and was warned that he was a desperate man.
Detectives Moses and Jackson were detailed on the case and for nearly two weeks have been watching all places where it was likely he would be found.

Just before being arrested, Crow walked up to the general delivery window at the postoffice and asked for mail for Frank J. Murphy.

"Are you Murphy?" asked the clerk.
"I am," he replied, and almost instantly felt a hand on each shoulder and heard the words, "You are our prisoner." An effort to resist was quickly stopped by two revolvers pointed at his head, and he meekly walked out and got into the patrol wagon.

Fatally Shot by a Boy.

COSHOCTON, O., Sept. 3.—Little Ray Scheffer, a boy aged 16, has shot and fatally injured Thomas McDermott.
The shooting was the result of a quarrel. McDermott picked up a stone and threw it at the boy. Scheffer drew a 32-caliber revolver and fired point blank at McDermott, the bullet striking him in the middle of the forehead.
McDermott will die. Scheffer gave himself up and is now in jail.

An Increase Demanded.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 3.—The furnace employees of the Mahoning Valley have issued a notice to their employers, demanding an increase of 10 per cent in wages, the same as was granted to the furnace workers of the Shenango Valley last week. The employers are given until this afternoon to reply, and if the demand is not granted by that time a general strike will be ordered.

G. A. R. Men Can Visit Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 3.—Through the combined influence of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association and the Courtney club, the lines between Cincinnati and Louisville have been induced to make excursion rates from Louisville to Cincinnati on Sept. 13 and 14, to enable Grand Army of the Republic visitors to reach Cincinnati at small expense.

Ex-Captain Dudley Suspended.

HAMILTON, O., Sept. 3.—The M. E. conference has suspended for one year
the Rev. W. R. Dudley, former chaplain of the Ohio penitentiary for obtaining money under false pretenses.

SMALL OHIO HAPPENINGS.

The United Brethren conference convenes in Dayton tomorrow and continues over the following Sunday.

The annual convention of the Tenth district of the Ohio Mission society of the Christian church is in session at Hamilton.

Mrs. Carrie S. Collins, wife of Tom Collins, a Dayton liverman, died suddenly in her husband's arms. Death was the result of heart failure.

The grocery store of E. T. Riley was burglarized at London and $75 in cash taken from a small box in which the day's money was kept. Entrance was gained at a rear window. Local talent is suspected, and arrests will probably follow.

The chamber of commerce at Lorain and the board of commerce of Oberlin have formally endorsed the resolutions in regard to reforms in municipal government, prepared and sent out by the conference of the Ohio state board of commerce some time ago.

The auditor's report of the school enumeration of Crawford county has just been completed and shows a general gain in children of school age, as compared with last year. The total number in the county is 10,107, as compared with 9,940
last year. There are 5,112 males and 4,994 females.

May Be Victims of Holmes.

DENVER, Sept. 3.—J. W. Hummel of San Diego, Ill., has written to a friend in this city suggesting the possibility that F. J. Gregory and his 9-year-old daughter, Doe, who disappeared from their home in Kearney, Neb., March 6, 1894, may have been victims of H. H.
Holmes.

A Negro Riddled By a Mob.

HICKMAN, Ky., Sept. 3.—William Butcher, a desperate negro, has been taken from jail by a mob. His head was shot off and his body riddled with bullets. Masks of some of the mob were found near the negro's dead body.

Beat the World's Record.

DENVER, Sept. 3.—O. B. Hackenberger has won the 25-mile road race under the auspices of the Associated Cycling club of Denver, and beat the world's record of 1:05 by one minute, his actual time being 1:04.

TO TEST TEXAS' LAW.

Prizefighters Arrested at Dallas to Try
the New Code.

DALLAS, Sept. 3.—In the twenty-first round of the Clark-Cavanaugh glove contest the contest was stopped by the police. Both the principals and James B. Bates, the referee were arrested and are in jail.

This is a case to test the validity of the state law regarding prizefighters.
Application for a writ of habeas corpus will at once be made to the court of criminal appeals, the tribunal of last resort. Should the court declare there is no law against glove contests, an application will be made to the supreme court for mandamus compelling the state controller to issue a license for the Corbett-Fitzsimmons contest.

A new code has gone into effect in Texas completely changing the civil and criminal laws of the state. It is in this code that the anti-prizefight law is contained, which the attorneys of the Florida Athletic club claim is conflicting and unconstitutional.

LETTERCARRIERS' CONVENTION.

Postmaster General Wilson in Attendance and Reviews the Parade.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 3.—The convention of the letter carriers opened here this morning. It is estimated that there were 5,000 men in line in the big parade.

Postmaster General Wilson reached the city yesterday under the escort of Postmaster Warfield of Baltimore and the letter carriers of that city, 375 strong. The Marine band, which headed the parade, was the feature of the day's exercises. Among those on the reviewing stand were: Postmaster General Wilson, Postmaster Carr of Philadelphia, ex-Governor Pattison, Postmaster Dayton of New York and Heston of Chicago.

THE BATTLE OF SEDAN.

Germany Generally Celebrating the Event.
Americans Celebrating.

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—Emperor William inaugurated the second day of the festivities in connection with the celebrations of the battles of 1870-71 by personally decorating with branches of oak leaves the four corps standards. The emperor then reviewed the German-American veterans.

A New York special says: Germans throughout this country are generally celebrating the anniversary of Sedan.

Schoolteacher Shoots His Pupil.

BLUFFTON, Ind., Sept. 3.—William Becker, a young schoolteacher, is under a bond of $5,000 for shooting Frank Ifer, a pupil. The affair took place at Ebenzer Baptist church, in the southern part of the county, at a song service. After the service had concluded Ifer followed Becker to his buggy and struck him twice. The latter then pulled a revolver and ordered his assailant not to repeat the blows. Young Ifer stepped toward Becker, who fired twice, both balls taking effect in the stomach.

Good Outlook For Wheat.

HENNESSEY, O. T., Sept. 3.—Heavy rains the past two days have put the ground in the best possible condition for fall wheat and a large acreage is assured. Already seed wheat has been shipped to the southern portion of Oklahoma, where wheat was almost a total failure this year. A party of capitalists have leased 6,000 acres between Dover and Okarche and will sow the entire tract.

The Wholesale Druggists Convention.

A THREAT AGAINST INDIANS.

A Wyoming Man Says They Will Be Killed If They Try to Hunt.

DENVER, Sept. 3.—General O'Brien, commander of the department of Colorado and Wyoming, G. A. R., says:
"If the Indians attempt to hunt in Red Desert, Wyo., they will never return alive. The white settlers of the region are aroused and they are ample to meet any number of Indians that attempt to kill buffalo."

At the last session of the state legislature a stringent law was passed to protect the only herd of buffalo in the state. The state will stand by that law, even though it brings Wyoming face to face with Uncle Sam. We are law-abiding citizens and we expect Indians to obey the law, even though they are fed at the crib of the general government."

A Boy's Sensational Ascension.

LINCOLN, Ill., Sept. 3.—A balloon ascension and parachute jump by Prof.
Fry, at this place, furnished an exciting event not intended. James Irving, a boy of 17, was in the way during the inflation of the balloon, and was caught in the ropes when the balloon was released, and to the horror of the aeronaut was above him and could not be reached. The voice of the aeronaut could be heard commanding him to lie still and hold on. The balloon ascended 2,500 feet, when the parachute was loose, and the aeronaut and lad landed safely in a cornfield, both thoroughly frightened.

BIG TERM FOR FRAKER

The Insurance Swindler Will Be Severely Punished.

HIS HEIRS ARE TO BE SUE.

The Insurance Companies Will Endeavor to Recover the $58,000 Paid Them. Witnesses Will Be Charged With Perjury—The Doctor's Arrest.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 3.—Attorneys for the insurance companies interested have drawn up the information that will be lodged against Dr. Fraker, the insurance swindler arrested near Duluth, when he reaches here tomorrow morning. He will be arrested under special section 326 of the revised statutes of Missouri, which makes it a crime to attempt to defraud by a trick, a cheat, a fraud and deception, false and fraudulent representations and false pretenses. The penalty is seven years in the penitentiary on each count, and Mr. Hoff says that there will be five counts in the indictments which will be brought against Fraker.

Dr. Fraker when he reaches here will be taken direct to Ray county and lodged in jail there, and it is in the criminal court of that county that he will be prosecuted. Mr. Hoff said that once John Brophy, James Tripot and George Harvey, who swore they saw Mr. Fraker drown, will be arrested on the charge of perjury. Suit will be begun at once against the heirs to recover the insurance money paid them.

A Duluth special says: George Fraker of Topeka, Kan., the man who was supposed to have been drowned in the Missouri river two years ago, has been captured in the woods, near Tower, Minn. Fraker's life was insured for $38,000, and the heirs brought suit in the Kansas courts to recover. The case went to the supreme court, and was one of the most famous in annals of this country. The insurance companies were defeated in the final decision, it being recorded last month. It was always maintained by the companies that Fraker was alive, but his whereabouts were unknown. Recently it became known in some way that Fraker was near Tower, where he was known under the alias of Schnell. Attorney Robert T. Harris and Deputy Sheriff Wilkinson of Topeka, came here and organized a party to search for him. Fraker was found in the woods and his capture effected in a strategic manner. He was brought to Duluth and was taken to Topeka at once.

Fraker will go without a requisition. He has been living near Tower for six months. He admitted his identity and said he did not leave home on purpose to defraud the companies, but that while he was near the Missouri river he fell in. He swam across the river and got on land. The next day he read in the papers that he had been drowned, and concluded to carry out the deception and allow his heirs to collect the insurance.

DIED FOR HIS HORSES.

A West Virginian Perishes In Trying to Save His Team and Wagon.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 3.—Elisha Bowman, whose home was in Preston county, near Eglon, has met a horrible death. He was hauling tanbark from the woods. The woods were on fire, and the horses took fright and became unmanageable. They rushed towards the blaze, and the wagon caught fire.

Bowman, in trying to save his team and wagon, had his clothes burnt from his body, and his body badly burned. The horses and wagon were destroyed. In his terrible condition Bowman died in reaching a house, but died after 12 hours of great agony.

A Noisy Scene In France.

BAYONNE, Sept. 3.—Serious disturbances followed the police interference with bullfighting here, as mentioned in yesterday's dispatches. An angry mob assembled about the sub-prefecture, crying to the officials to resign and attempting to force open the doors. A detachment of mounted police was summoned, which charged and dispersed the crowd. The mob reassembled in greater numbers and proceeded to the houses of the mayor and police officials, which they pelted with stones. Troops were called out to protect the officials.

Dr. Raue Has Resigned.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 3.—Dr. W. F. Raue, for some time professor of agriculture in the State university and horticulturalist at the experiment station, has resigned his chair to accept a more lucrative position in the Agricultural college of New Hampshire.

Shot For Interfering.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 3.—While endeavoring to prevent Fred Chapman from beating his wife, William Davis was fatally shot by the enraged husband.

Ex-Senator Lewis Dead.

RICHMOND, Sept. 3.—Ex-United States Senator J. T. Lewis has died at his home, near Harrisonburg, of a cancerous disease, in the 77th year of his age.

IRISH PARTY IN DANGER.

McCarthy Issues a Manifesto Which May Greatly Injure the Cause.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Justin McCarthy, M. P., leader of the Home Rule party, has issued a manifesto denouncing the nomination of a Healyite candidate for parliament in Kerry, in opposition to the McCarthyite candidate, which is causing a sensation in the lobby of the house of commons. Mr. McCarthy says that the course of the Healyites is an act of treason and that the revolt forces issues whether it be maintained or not. The manifesto was issued without consultation with other members of the Home Rule party or with the consultative committee. It is thought Mr. John Dillon and T. P. O'Connor were alone consulted by Mr. McCarthy.

The Ball Mail Gazette asserts that one of the most respected members of the Irish Home Rule party, who has not been mixed up with any of the party's personal disputes, says that it looks like a final breaking up of the party.

Peary Relief Party Heard From.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Sept. 3.—The first news from the Peary relief expedition since its departure has come by the American schooner John E. Mackenzie returning from the Greenland halibut fishery. The Mackenzie met the Kite with the expedition at Holsteinburg on July 15. At Holsteinburg the Kite took aboard Prof. Dyche, one of the members of the expedition, and sailed again the same evening. The crew of the Mackenzie think the Kite will have no difficulty in reaching Whale's sound, where Peary's headquarters are located. The return of the relief party is expected about the end of this month.

Claims Part of a Town.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 3.—R. R. Dunbar of Argentine, a suburb of this city, acting for George Washington, a Shawnee Indian, has brought suit to recover 328 acres of choice residence and business property in the west end of that town. Basis of the claim is an old Indian deed, which shows the land to have been patented to Nancy Whitefeather, a member of the Shawnee tribe of Indians, by the United States government, Dec. 28, 1859. Washington is her grandson and the principal heir. Her heirs claim they never sold the land to any one.

Big Damage by the Mexican Storm.

LAREDO, Tex., Sept. 3.—Later and official reports of the havoc created by the mountain rain in northeastern Mexico prove that the situation is worse than at first reported. Between Monterey and Laredo at least ten miles of telegraph poles are washed away, not a trace of which remains. An estimate of the extent of the damage cannot be made, as almost every bridge between Monterey and Laredo is gone. The loss will probably not be less than $500,000.

Ex-Governor Anderson Dead.

DAYTON, O., Sept. 3.—News has been received here of the death of Charles Anderson, ex-governor of Ohio, at Kuttawa, Ky. He was lieutenant governor under Brough in 1865, and when the latter died assumed the gubernatorial dignity. He was a noted lawyer, married Eliza J. Brown here in 1838, was colonel of the famous Ninety-third O. V. I., and is connected with some of the leading families of this city.

To Select Flags For Exhibition.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 3.—In accordance with a letter received by him, from Governor Brown, Director General Miliken of the Grand Army of the Republic has sent a committee composed of two ex-Union soldiers to Frankfort to select from the Kentucky regimental flags, now at Frankfort, such ones as are desired for exhibition here during the coming encampment. The flags will be arranged around the Clay statue in the courthouse.

Trades Union Congress In Wales.

CARDIFF, Wales, Sept. 3.—The Trades Union congress has opened here with 344 delegates present. The proposed change in the constitution of the body, limiting the choice of delegates to those who are actually working at trades, will, it is expected, encounter much opposition, because it would shut out from participation in future congresses many active trade unionists.

Enthusiastic Over the St. Louis.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Commander Bradford and Lieutenant Mulligan, the naval officers who represented the government on the trial trip of the St. Louis, have returned to Washington and reported in enthusiastic terms of the vessel and will begin the preparation of their official report upon the trial trip at once.

Weaver Claims Texas For Populists.

DENVER, Sept. 3.—General J. B. Weaver, who spent most of August in Texas, sends the following report regarding the political conditions in that state to a local paper: "Old party ties are completely dissolved in Texas, and there is not a lingering doubt that the Lone Star state in 1896 will cast her vote by an immense majority for the Populist ticket."

Big Firm Falls at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 3.—Henry H. Wolfe & Co., 644 West Main street, one of the largest wholesale clothing firms in the south, has filed a deed of assignment. Killed His Mother and Himself.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Sept. 3.—The dead bodies of Dr. E. M. Remington and his mother have been found at home by a colored girl. They were almost unrecognizable. FIFTY PEOPLE HURT.

An Appalling Railroad Accident Near Brooklyn.

EXCURSION TRAIN TELESKOPE.

A Wild Engine Crashes Into the Rear of a Crowded Train Standing at a Station. Many Passengers Saved Their Lives by Jumping—Railroaders Arrested.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 3.—An appalling railroad accident has occurred near Woodlawn station, of the Sea Beach railroad, in which 50 people were injured. While train No. 3, drawing 17 cars which were crowded almost to suffocation by excursionists was standing at the Woodlawn station, a wild engine came thundering along the tracks on its wake and crashed into the rear car, telescoping it. The car was full of passengers, most of whom came from New York. Many people saw the engine tearing along, and jumped from the train and thus saved their lives. The runaway engine dashed into the rear car, smashing it into kindling wood and burying men, women and children beneath it. The wreck then caught fire and people were rescued with difficulty. Several will probably die.

The severely injured are: Joseph Roe, New York; Abraham Levy, New York; John Blake, Navesink, N. J.; William Gregory, Jersey City; Lizzie Wolf, New York; August Suddelstrom, New York; Moritz Frankle, New York; Joseph Roeman, New York; Lewis Held, New York; Joseph Freedman, New York, and William Kemp of Brooklyn.

The police authorities have Engineer Frank Jason and Fireman Arthur Ross of the runaway engine under arrest.

Protestants' Appeal to the Pope.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—The committee of Chicago Methodist clergymen appointed to ask Pope Leo XIII. to aid in securing religious liberty to the Protestants of several South American countries, has reported that the matter has been placed before the Catholic authorities at Rome, and that they have given assurance that the petition will be carried to the pope. The committee expressed the belief that the matter would receive favorable consideration and result in great benefit to the Protestants of Peru, Ecuador and Bolivia.

American Armor Accepted by Russians.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Sept. 3.—The Bethlehem Iron company has been advised by cable of another successful armor plate test in Russia. The plate tested represented a lot of 7-inch armor made by the company for the Russian battleships Senavir and Oushakoff. The test took place at St. Petersburg and was very satisfactory to the Russian ordnance officers. The Russian government has now accepted all the armor plate made here for the vessels.

Starving Armenians Out.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The Westminster Gazette claims to have received details of great inhumanity upon the part of Turkish officials at Samsun, who are said to be preventing the distribution of relief to the starving Armenians. It is added that the number of deaths among the latter is increasing daily, and it is claimed that it is the deliberate policy of the Turkish government to exterminate the remaining refugees by starvation.

A Police Force Without Funds.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 3.—Consternation was caused in the police department when Mayor Davis refused to certify to the August payroll because the department had overdrawn the monthly allotment to the amount of $800. As two of the police commissioners are out of the city, no action can be taken for a week's time. As a result the force is temporarily without funds, and considerable bad humor has resulted.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The trolley wire was down at Walker last night, and passengers were transferred.

Wyllie King, of the glass works, has secured a position in New York, and will go there next week.

The Columbian club entertained with one of those pleasant informal dances for which they are becoming noted last night.

The differences between the glass workers and the Specialty company have been amicably adjusted, and the men are again at work.

William Jackson a cooper residing on Second street, was at work yesterday when an adz slipped and gave him a painful cut on his foot.

Doctor Huston yesterday said the words which made Mr. Samuel Booth and Miss Annie M. Heroes husband and wife. Both reside in this city.

All the barber shops were closed all of yesterday, the first time in the history of the city when the knights of the razor took a holiday to themselves.

Bert Chambers went to New Wilmington yesterday, where he will enter college there as a student. Mr. Meador and John Hanley will leave for the same school later in the week.

A crowded street car left the track at Brady's on Sunday evening, and there was some commotion among the passengers for a short time. It did no greater damage than to injure the schedule.

The Columbus and the Gyms played ball in East End on Saturday afternoon, and the Columbus won by a score of 27-7. Chambers and Phillips, Price and Specht made up the batteries.

Tom York, the rider, went to Youngstown on Saturday, where he is entered in the races today, and Hale, Trappe and Irons go out tonight. The boys expect to capture their share of the prizes.

While riding in the Diamond yesterday morning Charley Ogden, the little son of Doctor Ogden, fell from his pony, and the little animal ran away. Fortunately the fall was not great, and Charley escaped with a few bruises.

The Cleveland train on Saturday afternoon was one of the largest ever seen on this road. The occasion was an excursion, with a ride on the lake, and a number of Liverpool people made the trip. They returned yesterday morning.

The question of slackwatering the Ohio is receiving a great deal of attention in Pittsburgh, and the story is published that Senator Quay is at the head of a movement to have the four dams between Beaver and Davis Island placed before congress at once.

The drop in the mercury on Saturday night made Sunday and yesterday the most delightful weather imaginable, and Liverpool enjoyed it as only Liverpool can. Almost every carriage in town was in commission Sunday, and wheelmen by the score rode to nearby towns.

Toadix Carey has again caught the Baltimore fancy, and the papers are saying all sorts of nice things about the splendid manner in which he plays the national game. Sporting Life last week, an authority on professional ball, paid him a complement that should raise his salary.

Lynn Boyd Atkinson, the newspaper man who is well known here because of various scrapes into which he has succeeded in getting himself, has been released from jail in Pittsburgh, where he was confined on a sentence for misrepresenting himself at a prominent hotel. Extenuating circumstances warranted his release.

"There goes an evidence that a paved road to the East End is needed," said Doctor Marshall yesterday as a broken vehicle passed him on the road. The tongue was badly twisted, and the survey had other evidence of having had a hard time. The damage was done on the miserable road which now does duty between the city proper and the East End.

Preparations for the tri-state field day of the Young Men's Christian association have reached that point where the local organization knows that it will be a complete success. Entries for the events are coming in, and some of the best amateur athletes in this part of the country are expected to take an active part. Liverpool will have a good team on the ground.

A good snake story comes from Grant district, where a well known potter of this city called on the young women who will soon take up her residence here Sunday afternoon. They were sitting near a spring enjoying the beautiful breeze when he felt something glide over his ankle, and the girl gave a shriek. Glancing in that direction he saw a copperhead as thick as his wrist and about 20 inches long, its beady little eyes glistening dangerously. Reaching a stick that was near he soon dispatched the snake but not before the girl had scampered away; and great beads of sweat stood on his forehead.

They Are Here.

Not all of them, of course, but enough to make you wonder if it will be possible for us to sell one-half of them. We know what we can do, and long before manufacturers had been notified that they would have to pay an advance on cloth, we had completed our arrangements for our fall delivery, and they are coming in—box after box of the newest ideas for Fall and Winter wear in Ladies', Misses' and Children's Cloaks.

Our Cloak Business

Has grown until we feel that we would be lacking in good business judgment if in any way we should neglect to arrange for the largest cloak business our house has ever enjoyed. Times are bracing up and in every way we feel more confident than we did one year ago.

The Prices.

We have always said that we can save you money on Cloaks, but this year we make the assertion at the start off that by a peculiar arrangement of circumstances, we are in a position to sell you garments on a positive guarantee of a saving of money to you. This is no bluster, but a cold, hard fact that we will prove to you if you go to the trouble to investigate.

Assortment Of Styles.

You can buy Cloaks of almost all dealers in Dry Goods, and the majority of them are sure that they have just what you want, but if you stop a moment to consider that only about one house in each city gives the cloak business enough of time or space that it should have to guarantee its success, you will not wonder that we claim to lead the cloak business in styles and prices. Our entire second floor is used for this line. Lady sales people who are adepts in this line are in charge. We handle more Cloaks than any other store in the county. Our factories are the best known and have the reputation of turning out the finest styles in the country, and selling in large quantities we are able to make closer prices. Come and see our line.

OHIO'S SOLDIER BOYS

Camp Howe at Newark Occupied by Hundreds.

COMPANY E IS WELL LOCATED

And Enjoying Themselves Immensely—The First Day in Camp—A Hard Week's Work Ahead of Them—Notes of Camp Life.

Camp Howe, Newark, O., Sept. 2.—Here is the home of the soldiers, or a part of those who wear the blue cloth and brass buttons, which tell that they are the guardians of the state of Ohio. Here the acres of state ground are dotted with tents, for it is the abiding place of the Eighth regiment.

At 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon the first companies, I F and L, of Canton, arrived on the ground, accompanied by the hospital corps of twelve men. Twenty minutes later Company E, of East Liverpool, left the train and started on a march of two miles to the camp. Fortunately the tents were already in position when they came to their journey's end. Otherwise the Liverpool soldiers would have preferred sleeping on the ground, for the march had made them weary. The preliminaries were many, but soon the tents were well filled, racks provided for the equipments, benches made for the comfort of soldiers and visitors alike, and when darkness came everything was in apple pie order. Later permission was given all to go to Newark and they lost no time in starting for the street car line. The soldiers took possession of Newark as they take possession of every place they visit and a charitable picket admitted those who were late in returning.

On their way to town the boys passed the Eighth regiment band, Company B, of Akron, K of Alliance, M of Mansfield, and H of Shreve. Today nearly all the companies are on the ground and the boys are greeting each other with a familiarity contracted at the McChainsville camp during the strike of '94.

The scene on the camp ground today is a beautiful one. Two hundred or more tents arranged in neat rows on the big field are on the left of the big flag pole from which Old Glory flutters in the breeze. Further to the east and in a little grove are the tents of the regimental officers and their wives, while Colonel Gyger's tent is marked by two handsome flags. A few soldiers are going through the movements of guard mount, but Company E does not have to work until tomorrow. They are taking it easy today and enjoying compliments from the officers and members of other companies, as well as the regimental officers, on their improved appearance. Tomorrow the entire regiment will have the following duty and will continue during the week:

Standard time—Reveille 5:30; breakfast 6:30; drill 7:30; fatigue call 7:45; guard mounting 7:50; assembling for drill 8:30; recall from drill 11; first sergeants call 11:15; dinner call 11:30; officers' school 12:30; non commissioned officers' school 12:30; assembly for drill 1:30; recall from drill 3; parade 4; retreat 4:30; supper call 5; guard mounting 5:45; tattoo 10; taps 10:30.

Among the Soldiers.
Company E ate their first meal in camp this morning with "everything good to eat," and Cook Will Temple served everything to suit.

Among the soldiers are two former Liverpool boys, Samuel Prudence, of Company A, Bucyrus, and Joe Ball, of B, Akron.

A novel feature of the camp ground is that it is lighted by electricity, a number of big are lights being located at the edge of the grove with the electric plant nearby.

Private James Moore had a narrow escape from being sun struck. Private Davis playfully knocked his cap out of the window while on the train. An officers' unused cap saved his life.

Corporal Blake is making himself popular by setting up peaches to the boys today and your correspondent pauses to enjoy them. Blake is somewhat of a peach himself.

A ball game and a big dance are on the boards for this week, both being schemes of Company E.

Privates Jack Salisbury, Ed Morley and Al Mackintosh are Cook Temple's assistants and good workers.

The guard house held six victims last night and they are being punished by being compelled to clean up the grounds today. SKARIGHT.

STRUCK BY A WHEEL.

An Accident On the Track Yesterday Afternoon.

When the crowd was most interested in the two mile bicycle race at the park yesterday afternoon, and the riders were coming down the home stretch at a high rate of speed a small boy named Hiner Kipner got on the course, and was struck by Hale, who had no time to turn out. The young rider was knocked down and rolled over half a dozen times, while the rider came to earth with a crash. The special police cared for them, and the little fellow was soon all right, although a red mark on his stomach and a cut on his chin showed where he had been hurt. Hale lost some skin off his face, but secured second place, for he was thrown over the scratch.

Carried the Crowd.

The street railway hauled the crowds in splendid style yesterday, and carried 12000 people between the hour when the first car started out in the morning and the last weary motor-man shut off the power at night. All the windows were nailed down, and the people were kept off the roofs. The published statement that the trestle was safe had much to do with the patronage. Superintendent Andrews hopes to have patrons of the line ride in summer cars next year.

A special to the NEWS REVIEW from Lisbon today conveys the intelligence that the club there will challenge Tommy York for a five mile race with J. F. Steel on the second day of the fair for $100 a side. York is not a track rider, his best efforts being on the road, but it is possible that a sufficient number of his friends will take up the challenge and issue another with other conditions and more money attached to it.

Mr. G. Caillouette, druggist, Beaversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It was worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at T. L. Pott's Drug store.

Saved His Life

—by a fortunate discovery in the nick of time. Hundreds of persons suffering from consumption have had the progress of the disease stopped, and have been brought back to life and health by the "Golden Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce.

Years ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, now chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., recognizing the fact that consumption was essentially a germ disease, and that a remedy which would drive the germs and their poisons from the blood would cure consumption, at last found a medicine which cured 98 per cent. of all cases, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease.

The tissues of the lungs being irritated by the germs and poisons in the blood circulating through them, the germs find lodgment there, and the lungs begin to break down. Soon the general health begins to fail, and the person feels languid, weak, faint, drowsy and confused.

This is the time to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery; it drives the germs and poisons from the blood, and has a soothing effect upon the dry cough. In cases of bronchitis the "Discovery" is invaluable. "Golden Medical Discovery" increases the amount and quality of the blood, thus invigorating and fortifying the system against disease and builds up wholesome flesh and strength after wasting diseases, as fevers, pneumonia, grip and other debilitating afflictions.

J. M. H. H. of Audubon, Audubon Co., Ia., says: "I took a severe cold which settled on my lungs and chest, and I suffered intensely with it. I tried several of our physicians here and they gave up all hopes of my recovery and thought I would have to die. I would cough and spit blood for hours, and I was pale and weak. I was greatly discouraged when I began the use of the 'Discovery.' I soon got better. It has been five years since I took it and have had no return of that trouble since."

AN ENGLISH CASUAL.

WHERE TRAMPS GET FOOD AND LODGING FOR WORK.

Josiah Flynt and a Companion Wind Up a Study of Tramp Life in England by a Visit to a "Spoke"—Meeting With a Great Friend of Mark Twain.

Josiah Flynt, who has given interesting studies on tramp life in Germany and in this country, has extended his investigations to England. He writes a paper entitled, "Two Tramps in England" in Century. He and his companion, a German student, completed a tour through the provinces with an experience in a "casual" at Notting Hill, London. Mr. Flynt writes:

We appeared at the door of the ward about half past 7 in the evening. A little window was raised, and I stepped forward to state my business. Unconsciously I leaned against the sill of the window, which offended the inspector in charge considerably.

"What's your name?" he thundered. Still leaning on the sill, I gave him my name honestly enough. He then remarked to some person inside that we were not accustomed to such places evidently, and called out, "Stand back, will you!" Back I stood. He cried out again, "Take off your hat!" My hat came off instantly. Still again: "You come in here as if you was a meeclecrany. You're not. You're a casual." I was as meek as could well be. Ryborg was itching to grab the inspector with his long arms. The next question was as to where we had slept the night before.

"Straw stack," I replied.

"None of your impudence! You slept out. Why don't you say so? Have you got any money?"

"A hap'enny, sir."

"Hand it in." In it went. Then I had to tell my trade, which was that of a sailor, and naturally the next question was as to where I was bound.

"To Ameriky, sir, if I can ever get there."

"You're goin to tramp it, aren't you?"

"Yes, sir; that's my intention." But for the life of me I could not see how I was to reach America that way. I was so frightened that I would have told him anything he wanted.

When he was through with us, a kind hearted attendant took us in hand, gave us some gruel and bread, a bath, clean night shirts, and then a cell apiece, in which we slept very well.

As there were only four inmates that morning we were needed for the cleaning up, and so escaped stone breaking, which I dreaded exceedingly, and were put at various light occupations—rather I was Ryborg the victim of his strength. Our breakfast consisted of the same dish as our supper of the night before. I was soon busy as general fireman, scrubber, knife cleaner, coal carrier, dish washer and helper of my sister sufferer, Mrs. Murphy, as she washed her task of towels and shirts. At noon we had pea soup and bread. I enjoyed it, but Ryborg did not. The poor fellow was feeling badly. He had had to scrub nearly 20 cells, and the bending over incident to such a feat had nearly broken his back. At dinner he said plaintively, "Flynt, I want to go home."

"So do I," I replied, "but I fancy we're wanted here till tomorrow morning."

This proved to be the case, but he felt better in the afternoon and got through comfortably, wheeling nearly a ton of stone from some of the cells to the general pile. He earned his "keep," if ever any poor prisoner did.

I fear I was more shiftless, for about the middle of the afternoon the attendant who was with me at the furnace said: "You might as well rest. Just keep your eye on the fire, that's all."

It was kind of him, and as I had at least earned my pea soup and gruel I took his advice. He was kinder to me, I think, because I gave him a cornucopia pipe which he had had to take away from me the night before. During the day he had asked me several questions about it, and I said, "It's a very decent sort of pipe—coolinlike, you know."

"Doesn't Mark Twain always smoke one of them pipes?" said he.

"Blest if I know," said I, "but I can well think it."

"I'm a great friend of Mark Twain," he pursued, "an I'm a thinkin' o' gettin' one of them pipes, jest out of respect for him."

"Well," said I, "permit me in the name of your respect to present you with my pipe. Besides you've got it anyhow." He thanked me profusely, and promised to keep it forever. Later in the day he reported it to be just as I had said, "sort o' coolin like." And he was a good friend to all the rest of my stay in the Notting Hill station.

On Wednesday morning we were turned loose with our two hap'ennies. We were both so happy that we decided to get off the road that very day.

We had been tramps for three weeks, and had walked most of this time fully 15 miles a day. So we looked up my friend at the Temple, and in a few hours were respectable again. That same day I took my tramp clothes out to the casual ward and presented them to my friend the attendant. I had told him the day before that I expected to get new "togs" soon, and he had put in a plea for my old ones. Good luck to him and them.
